

BANKRUPT DISPOSAL SALE!

On February 8, 1908, and continuing thereafter until disposed of, I will offer for sale at from 25 to 50 cents on the dollar less than the regular retail prices, the remaining portion of the J. M. BIGGS BANKRUPT STOCK of JEWELRY, consisting principally of Watches, Clocks, Plated Ware, Musical Instruments, Sheet Music, Gramophones Supplies and Records, Etc.

Remember that articles of the best values are offered in this sale. The less valuable goods were disposed of at a former sale.

I also have for sale several miscellaneous articles, such as One Bed-Room Set, Rocking Chairs, Settee, Center Table, Music Chairs, Piano Stools, Mirror, Portieres, Pictures, Water Set and Cooler, besides a number of other articles.

These goods were purchased at a great sacrifice and I will sell them at accordingly low prices.

YOURS FOR BARGAINS,

Elder O. W. Darnold was compelled to return to Lexington this week, but will be back in time to preach next Sunday.

Evangelist W. J. Harvey preached at the Methodist church here last night. Rev. Harvey conducted a meeting here not long since.

Elder O. W. Darnold commenced his work as minister for the Christian church at this place, Sunday, when he preached morning and evening in large and appreciative audiences.

Circuit court convened in Edmondson, Monday. Messrs Duff & Hutcherson, Baird & Richardson and Allan Sandidge of this place are in attendance.

Mr. W. T. Froedge and family, who came here from Breeding, Adair county, two months ago, have purchased a farm on Marrowbone, and have gone there to reside. Mr. Froedge is a brother of Dr. C. W. Froedge of Eighty Eight.

Harry K. Thaw has at last been declared insane, and sent to an asylum. As soon as he is released from that, it is to be hoped that he will sink out of the public sight. He has been in the lime light long enough.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jordan have moved into a house on Mr. W. H. Jordan's farm near town. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan are not very old folks yet, but their children have all married and left them. They are the parents of eight living children, and the birth of a 10 pound son to Mr. and Mrs. Steve Sharp, Saturday night, rounded out thirty living grand children for Mr. and Mrs. Jordan to be proud of, fifteen being boys and fifteen girls.

A barn belonging to Rev. J. L. Brown at Temple Hill, was burned early Sunday night. We learn that a horse and buggy was saved, but the feed was burned. We have been unable to learn further particulars.

The remains of Mr. Jack Trigg, who died last week in Fresno, California, arrived here Monday evening, and were interred in the Glasgow cemetery Tuesday, after short services at the grave, conducted by Rev. G. P. Dillon.

The residence of Mr. Phil. W. Grinstead, near Newport, Ky., was burned Sunday night, incurring a loss of about $6,000, with $1,000 insurance. Mr. Grinstead is well and favorably known here, where he has many friends.

Mr. Arthur Vance died at his home at Glasgow Junction, last week, of lung and throat trouble, after a lingering illness. Funeral services were held by Rev. J. W. Wheeler, and the remains were interred in the Walnut Hill cemetery.

A reception was given Elder O. W. Darnold the new minister at the Christian church, Monday night, which was attended by all the ministers and many of the church people of Glasgow. A most enjoyable time was had, and the new minister received many warm hands of welcome.

Mr. T. A. Kinney, formerly of the Roseville section, died at his home at Oliver, Smith county, Tenn., Jan. 25th, of pneumonia, after an illness of only three days. Mr. Kinney was a leading member of the Christian church, and a most excellent citizen, and his many friends will regret to learn of his death.

Mail Contract Let.

Mr. P. E. Tandy has been awarded the contract to carry the mail from this place to Tompkinsville and Scottsville for four years, beginning July 1. Mr. Tandy has heretofore proven himself one of the best mail carriers in this section, and the people can depend on him.

Dogs attacked W. H. Jones' flock of sheep near town, Sunday night, and killed one valuable ewe and wounded three others. They would no doubt have cleaned up the bunch, but Mr. Jones heard the racket and armed with lantern and shot gun he made a hasty charge on the barking canines and brought down what was thought to be the leader. It is just a little consolation to know that when the sheep-killers hold their next meeting that there will be one "vacant chair."

Will Go To California.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harlow, we understand will leave here about March the first for San Francisco, Cal. It is understood that the health of their little daughter, Allein, is what prompted the trip. Allein has been sick since last October, and while at times her condition was alarming, she has about recovered from her malady, but the disease left her nervous system a wreck and it is with a hope of a complete recovery that she will be carried to California. As to Mr. Harlow's course after reaching there he has not fully decided, but if the climate agrees with his little girl he may embark in business there and remain indefinitely.

No better people than Bob Harlow and his wife and children ever lived in Barren county and their host of friends trust their little girl may soon be restored to perfect health and they will soon find it convenient to return here.

Martin Peden.

Mr. Sheldon S. Martin of Cave City and Miss Alice B. Peden were married yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, on South Fork, Rev. James Chenault officiating in his usual happy style. The attendants were Mr. Iven Allen of this place and Miss Irene Peden of Louisville. The flower girls were Misses Edna Maye Peden, sister of the bride and Annie Maye Duke of Cave City. Immediately following the ceremony, the happy couple and a few friends left here on the 3:30 train for the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Martin, where a reception was given. The groom is a prosperous young farmer and is among the most substantial young men of the county. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo E. Peden, and is one of the most beautiful and popular young ladies around town. We join their many friends in wishing them many happy days.

Strange Case.

A three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Berge Parrish fell into an open fire place at their home near Holland, Allen county Saturday and was so severely burned that it died in a short time. A strange feature in connection with the sickening accident was the fact that Mrs. Parrish, mother of the child, dreamed three weeks before that some member of the family would be burned to death, and the manner of the child's death was precisely as she had dreamed. At the funeral twelve persons gave the preacher their hand signifying that they desired to become Christians and before the funeral was over nine were converted, including two brothers of the dead child.

Badly Scalded.

Mrs. King A. Bowman, who resides on Front street was severely scalded about the head and neck Monday morning and while her injuries are not thought to be serious they are very painful. Mrs. Bowman placed some beans in a bucket to boil and desiring to transfer them into a kettle, she attempted to pry off the lid, when it flew off, covering her face and neck with the hot steam, water and beans. Fortunately Mrs. Bowman had on glasses at the time and her eyes escaped injury. Her face and neck are badly blistered and considerably swollen.

Mrs. Bowman is a highly respected lady and the accident is deplored by her friends.

Death of Mrs. Thos. Winn.

Mrs. Ada Winn, wife of Mr. Thos. Winn, died at the home of her father, Mr. W. M. Steenbergen, in the Bruce section Sunday morning at the age of thirty years, of tuberculosis. She is survived by her husband and two children besides her parents and family. She was a devoted member of the Baptist church, and is said to have been a pure and lovely woman. The family are among the best in Barren county, and they have the sympathy of all their acquaintances. Funeral services were held at the residence of Mr. Steenbergen's Monday morning, and the remains were then brought to this place for burial.

Firm Changed.

By a strange oversight last week, we failed to mention the change in the firm of the Rogers-Harlow Co. Messrs L. P. Rogers and R. E. Harlow have sold their interests to Messrs H. W. Jolly, Ruel Dotson and G. C. Harlow, Mr. J. L. Harlow being the only member of the old firm remaining. The new owners are all young and energetic business men, and will command a large share of the trade.

An Example.

In a business letter from Mr. G. W. Bunch of Edmondson, we are informed that that gentleman is 58 years of whom we voted for the Republican ticket. He states that he is the best Republican in Metcalfe county, and we believe he borders close on the truth. He owed us some on the REPUBLICAN and we sent him a clear receipt. We will do the same for anyone else who can show up twenty-four children with five Republican voters.

A Conversation Party.

Unless a hostess falls back on dancing or cards, she is often at her wit's end to know just what to do to amuse her guests, especially if the majority of them are strangers to one another. The first hour is usually dreaded, when a penalty of silence seems to be imposed on every one, and the feat of "breaking the ice" is indeed a most difficult thing. One of the best things for this purpose is a conversation party. Have attractive little programs made, either your monogram or that of your honor guest's, if you have one, with a little water-color or pen-and-ink sketch gracing the cover. Within the folder or on the other side, if it is a straight card, have as many numbers as you desire conversations. Opposite each number have written a subject for conversation. Distribute your programs among your guests, and have the men engage certain young women for conversations, just as they would engage partners for a dance. After every one's card is completely filled, the hostess rings a bell. The two who are to converse are permitted to go where they wish to carry on their conversation. At the end of a certain period, usually five to ten minutes, the hostess again rings her bell, when the men leave their partners and hunt those for the next subject to be discussed. In this way every one gets an opportunity to talk with every one else. It is often the case that the prescribed subject is never even thought of more mutual interest to each other, so much the better.—The Circle.

Afraid Of Raiders. Men Stay In Bed.

As the result of the recent raid of night riders in Dawson Springs, Ky., a house was allowed to burn down in the town without a hand being turned to save it. It is customary to give an alarm of fire by firing a pistol, but the law is also the customary way for night riders to notify the citizens of their presence and desire for everybody to stay indoors. So when the night watchman fired his pistol several times it was as would turn out and lend a hand his efforts had directly the opposite effect, and not only did the volunteers remain abed, but pedestrians skurried to the nearest doorway and a fine residence burned to the ground, while citizens lay trembling in their beds, anxiously awaiting the dawn when they could learn what the night riders had done.—Courier-Journal.

Tie the seed corn ears together by the husks, two by two, and hang over wires stretched a foot or more apart across a room which is dry and has a good circulation of air.

PRONOUNCED HIS CASE INCURABLE

Whole Body Raw with Eczema—Life was Intolerable—Was Even Incased in Plaster—Discharged from Hospitals as Hopeless.

SUFFERED 14 YEARS CURED BY CUTICURA

"From the age of three months until fifteen years old, my son Owen's life was made intolerable by eczema in its worst form. He was all right until a red rash broke out on his forehead, but we were not alarmed at first. Very soon, however, the rash began to spread over his head and shoulders, and it caused him great discomfort. I took him to a doctor and tried half a dozen other treatments, all with the same result: no improvement at all. The disease gradually spread until nearly every part of his body was quite raw. We had to strap him down in bed, for he used to tear himself dreadfully in his sleep. The agony he went through is quite beyond words. No one thought we would rear him. The regimental doctor, a very clever man, pronounced the case hopeless, at least, he said the only hope was that he might, if he lived long enough, outgrow it to some extent. We had him in hospital four times and he was pronounced one of the worst cases, if not the worst, ever admitted. From each he was discharged as incurable, in fact he got worse under the successive treatments. At one hospital they incised him in plaster, and this seemed to aggravate the eczema terribly. He looked so badly that no one liked to go near him and his life was a burden to him. We kept trying remedy after remedy, but we had got almost past hoping for a cure. Six months ago we purchased a set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent Pills and followed the directions. The result was truly marvelous and to-day he is perfectly cured, his skin not having a blemish on it anywhere. Mrs. Lily Hodges, 21, Vaughan Road, Chesham, Bucks, England, writes: 'I feel free to say that Cuticura cured my son Owen, aged 15, of his terrible skin disease.'"

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicine greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, and is a valuable demulcent, nutritive, and antiseptic. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Blood Cherry Bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stems and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in soothing chronic or lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and tonic. The Golden Seal root, Stems and Queen's root, and Blood Cherry Bark, when combined with glycerine, and taken in the form of a syrup, will not only soothe the inflamed mucous membrane of the throat, but will also act as a powerful tonic, and will build up the system, and restore the patient to health. It is in the lingering chronic coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from the lungs, that it has performed its most valuable work. It is a most valuable agent in the treatment of all cases of consumption, and is a most valuable agent in the treatment of all cases of consumption, and is a most valuable agent in the treatment of all cases of consumption.

The Happiness of Youth.

Ever since "Adam delved and Eve span," youth has been looked upon as the natural playtime of life. But if the youthful spirit is to endure and ease the more serious years of life with its lightness, its freshness, and its sensitiveness to emotion, play—as relaxation—must endure also.

Full of zest and pleasure as the play of youth is, it lacks the leavening force of appreciation and realization. The law of contrast prevails here as in all the other circumstances of life. Rest, to be rest, must be preceded by fatigue, and play is but the antithesis of work. The one vivifies and makes availing the other, just as the rest in music forms a background of throbbing silence for the lovely tones of the work-a-day world is, at most, limited; contrasts are much less vividly defined, and that which must hereafter take its place as an aid to life becomes life itself.

"To look up at the stars" in youth is to be absorbed in their brightness and splendor, and the beauty which is visible to the eyes. But as years bring deeper thought and a clearer understanding, the upward gaze beholds not only the stars and their varying brightness, but it peers into the velvet void beyond, and, urged by impelling thought, seeks to solve the mystery of creation—an eternal riddle, but one which leads the mind of every woman who feels its mightiness to higher, purer thoughts, and carries her spirit into fields elusian and almost divine in their significance.—Frances Worden.

PRINTED BY REQUEST.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargol, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggists.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive kidneys, overcoming Backache, Bladder weakness and Urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination, especially at night, curing even the worst forms of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

The Scranton (Pa.) Times was first to print this remarkable prescription, in October 1, 1906, since when all the lead newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other cities have made many announcements of it to their readers.

The experienced hog raiser knows that there is more real profit in growing one little pig from a mature hog than two litters from an undeveloped dam. Some people have had a large number of fine old sows and many times failed to appreciate them until after they were sold.

HIS TASTE HAD CHANGED

French Senator Made Neat Reply to Vexed Baroness of Empress Eugenie.

The Empress Eugenie, whom Napoleon III chose to share his throne, had a ready wit, which, although it never veiled a sneer, often confused those on whom it was directed. The late Dr. W. T. Evans tells in his reminiscences the story of a distinguished senator, who, on being asked what he thought of the speech in which Napoleon had declared his marriage intention to the deposed empress, replied:

"A fine speech—excellent; but I prefer the sauce to the fish," meaning that Napoleon's words were better than his choosing a bride.

Some weeks later, at a dinner given at the Tuilleries, this senator was seated next to the empress, who, observing that after having been helped to the turbot he declined the sauce, said to him, smiling roughly:

"Monieur, I thought it was the sauce you liked, and not the fish."

With rare presence of mind the senator hesitated but a moment.

"A mistake, madame," he said, "for which I am now trying to make amends."—Youth's Companion.

WADING IN THE BRANCH.

I asked one of our multi-millionaires: "What is the secret of your longevity, your splendid health, your vigor, your invincible stamina? You never appear tired. You do at 76 the work of a youth of 22." He replied: "If it were not for the conventionalities I'd live to be 150 at least. I waded in the branch for ten years on the old farm, a stream about a foot wide in summer and a raging torrent in winter. I didn't know the name of 'shoe.' Say, did you ever wade?—Did you ever get on the banks of a creek and make out the mud was soap, and wallow in it like a hog wallows in a mud pond? Did you, old man? Lord! that's what gave me a constitution. Boy, of course, when they sent me to college I had to wear shoes and look decent. Damn it all!"—Victor Smith in N. Y. Press.

A Chinese consul was caught in a gambling house in Honolulu on the occasion of a recent police raid, and promptly explained his presence in the tabooed place by saying that he had business with a countryman whom he had gone there to find. The explanation is not strictly original. It resembles that sometimes offered when an unlucky prospector is caught in places that he should not visit, but it shows that the Chinese are learning, and are in a fair way to assimilate all our habits—those of speech as well as action.

NAME ESCAPED HEAR.

"Professor," said Mrs. Gaswell to the distinguished musician who had been engaged at a high price to entertain her guests, "what was that lovely selection you played just now?"

"That, madam," he answered, glancing at her, "was an improvisation."

"Ah, yes, I remember now. I knew it was an old favorite, but I couldn't think of the name of it to save me."

There is wealth and independence for you along the Cotton Belt Route in Arkansas and Texas—Why?

Because the soil is rich. It is not worked out. It can be bought now for from $5 to $25 an acre—about one-fourth of its value.

The climate is mild and healthful. You can work out of doors the year around. There are good schools and churches. Live stock has good range nearly all year. No county taxes are levied on land. There are no taxes on sugar, paper and other products. You can raise and market your crop nearly every month in the year. There are good markets nearby. There is an abundant supply of good water. The soil is plentiful and evenly distributed.

Think what you're offered!

Low land values—Good water—Two crops a year—Convenient markets—Grazing for stock the year around—Can you afford to stay where you are?

Just consider whether it's better to take advantage of the wonderful opportunities this territory now offers, or continue where you are, struggling along under adverse conditions, wasting your time and energy trying to make a high-priced farm which is "all worked out" pay.

Don't delay! Go Southwest! You won't make a mistake. Twice a month, Homeowner's tickets are sold by the Cotton Belt at very low rates. SLAIN BY HIS OWN SON

NOTED MOUNTAIN FEUDIST, JUDGE JAMES HARGIS, SHOT FIVE TIMES BY HIS WAYWARD SON.

The Ending of A Stormy Life.

Former Judge James Hargis was shot and almost instantly killed by his son, Beech Hargis, a few minutes before 3 o'clock last Thursday.

The tragedy occurred in Judge Hargis store at Jackson and no one saw the beginning of the struggle. Beech Hargis had been drinking hard for several days, and this afternoon walked into his father's store. What occurred there no one seems to know. James Brophy, one of the clerks in the store, was waiting on a customer at the time. The building is a large double affair, three stories high. Brophy was the only clerk in the room where the shooting occurred. Mrs. G. K. Allen and M. S. Coffey, Hargis' bookkeepers, were in the rear but ran out and were too excited to give any coherent account of the matter.

Judge Hargis and his son were near the middle of the room when the shooting began. Young Hargis fired three shots in rapid succession, and Judge Hargis staggered back, crying, "Oh, mercy, you have killed me," and called for help. Beech then fired two more shots all taking effect in the abdomen and heart.

Judge Hargis was carried home by his son, Beech, and his brother, Alex. Hargis, and immediately arrested young Hargis and dragged him to jail. He fought like a maniac on his way to jail and had to be taken by sheer force.

The shooting was done with a .35-caliber Smith & Wesson revolver. There was much excitement in town and in a few moments after the shooting hundreds of people were crowding around the Hargis building.

A few nights ago, it is alleged that Beech Hargis went home intoxicated and Judge Hargis had to subdue him by force and that high and bitter words passed between them. It is supposed that this was in the mind of young Hargis when he murdered his parent.

Mrs. Evelyn Hogg, the only daughter of Judge Hargis, had only a few weeks ago married Dr. H. P. Hogg, one of the active supporters of the anti-Hargis faction, and it was hoped that a final ending of the feud was accomplished. She was prostrated with the shock and clung to the dead body of her father and refused to be lifted that he was dead.

Mrs. Hargis is almost frantic with grief, Beech having always been her favorite, and it was she who always supplied the wants for her son when he wandered away as he frequently did, and it was she who furnished him with money to return home. Nothing is heard but profound sorrow and horror at the occurrence. There is no significance in the killing, except the trouble between son and father. It was no connection whatever with any phase of the feud that has existed here.

James Brophy, the clerk in Hargis' store at the time of the killing said: "I do not know how the trouble began. I was waiting on a customer some distance from the men. The first intimation I had was the shooting, and it was over before I could reach them. I did not hear any of the conversation."

Standing in the same building from which he had witnessed the killing of James B. Marcum and James Cockrill, and within seventy feet of the scenes of the assassinations of Marcum, Cockrill and Dr. B. D. Cox, all three of which murders he was charged with having procured, was James Hargis when shot down in his store. Not only was Judge Hargis killed so near to the spots where his three alleged victims met a similar fate, but his last words of "Oh, mercy," were the same as uttered by Marcum, Cockrill and Cox, as they fell victims to the assassins' bullets, alleged to have been fired at the instance of the feud leader, whose life was snuffed out in the twinkling of an eye.

James Hargis From Boyhood To Grave.

Struggling through boyhood poverty, James Hargis amassed a comfortable fortune, attained high rank in the Democratic party, and was a leading citizen of the mountain district.

Embittered by the killing of two brothers, he became a mortal enemy of Jim Cockrill, Dr. B. D. Cox and J. B. Marcum, who were assassinated in 1902, 1903 and 1904 respectively. Hargis was accused of hiring their assassinations.

Fear made him a virtual prisoner in his own store six months. He was the backbone of the defense of Jett White in trial at Jackson and Cythiana in June, July and August, 1904.

In December, 1905, a Clark county jury returned an $1,000 judgment against Hargis for the murder of Marcum.

He was formally acquitted of Marcum's murder in Lee county in the summer of 1906, of Cox's murder in Breathitt county, and was subsequently acquitted by a Scott county jury in Fayette county for the murder of Cockrill.

More recently the Cox heirs sued him for bribing about the murder of Dr. Cox, but the case was compromised and dismissed.

He was an enemy of his son Beech, his brother Alex, and his nephews Curt Jett, Jim and Tom Cockrill. He was shot to death by his son Beech in his store on the afternoon of February 6, 1908.

CAREER OF DISOLUTE SON.

Beech Hargis is about twenty-two years of age. He has perhaps not been sober in the past three years.

He is slight of frame, underweight and frail looking.

Whisky-dulled eyes detract from an already unattractive face.

He is uncouth, uneducated and rarely, if ever, associated with cultured people.

For years he was accustomed to getting drunk and "shooting up the town."

He was dependent upon his father for his living, and his victim's money will perhaps provide expenses of his trial.

Bought Coffin Two Weeks Ago.

About two weeks ago, while in Louisville purchasing goods for his general store, Hargis went to the National Casket Works, at Eleventh and Magazine streets. He was waited on by George H. Connelly, the city salesman.

While he was going through one of the show rooms, Hargis' eye alighted on a casket of unusually handsome design and material. The exterior was of solid mahogany, hand-carved and the silver mounts and filigree work hand-chased. The casket was lined with heavy satin and plush and would have made a fitting resting place for a monarch.

"How much is that box," asked the feuding chief. He was told that it sold for $1,500, by Mr. Connelly.

"Well, I want that coffin for myself, for my own burial. You will be notified when it is to be used." This closed the incident, but as he continued his journey through the factory, Judge Hargis made frequent remarks bearing on former conditions in Jackson. He said nothing, however, that would actually show that he thought that he was about to meet death.

Mr. Connelly left Louisville several days ago, and has been traveling through Indiana on a business trip. He had not told the firm of Judge Hargis' purchase and when Mr. William H. Mey, manager of the concern, received the following telegram he was dumfounded:

"Send coffin ordered by James Hargis, as he is dead."

Mrs. Judge James Hargis.

Mr. May had no idea, of course, which coffin had been selected by Hargis, and at once attempted to get in communication by telephone with Connelly, whom he knew Hargis had dealt with. After several hours' work he located him at Palmers, Ind.

An engraver carved Hargis' name on the plate of the coffin before it was put on the train. The casket was heavily wrapped and packed in a mahogany cover before it was shipped.

A Happy and Delightful Event.

On last Wednesday evening February 5, at 3 o'clock, at the elegant and pleasant home of the bride's father, Mr. Smith Freeman, in the presence of a number of friends and relatives, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Bessie Freeman and Mr. Frank Pitcock, both of the Blue Spring section. Miss Bessie is one of Metcalfe's fairest daughters and is a talented and charming lady of many lovely characteristics. Mr. Pitcock is a son of J. F. Pitcock, who moved here from Monroe county about two years ago, and has proved himself to be a gentleman of the highest type, good natured and genial and a highly respected citizen in both the counties.

Rev. J. C. Thomas pronounced the ceremony that made the handsome and happy young couple man and wife. Mr. E. L. Freeman and Miss Carrie Freeman, cousins of the bride were the attendants. Immediately after the ceremony all were invited from the parlor to the dining room, where there was awaiting a table loaded with any and every good thing to eat, in lavish supply, all had been prepared by Mrs. Freeman and her charming daughters. May the handsome young couple live long and be happy is the wish of J. C. T.

Barron County Crops And Stock.

(Farmers Home Journal.)

Wheat is not looking as well in this section as usual. There has been no snow, but a great deal of freezing and thawing, which makes it hard on wheat, young grass and clover.

There are more young lombs reported up to this time than usual. Not many hogs being fed here on account of hogs being so low, and corn so high. Cattle seem to be doing well this winter so far, and quite a number are being fed here. The mule market is getting better again. Farmers are beginning to hustle around for males to work on the farms.

There seems to be about the usual preparation for a tobacco crop. Farmers are going right along with plant-beds sowing, but are watching the Legislature with one eye, and hope to see some bill passed that will benefit them, yet rather dreading the influence that capital may have against them.

A great deal has been said of late about the dog tax law, some for, and some against it. I was in favor of it when it was passed, but since I have seen how poorly it has been enforced, and how unequal it has worked, I think it ought to be repealed. It has utterly failed in its purpose here. Not one dog so far as I know, has ever been killed, nor has the tax been collected on one half of them. Very few people have a dog when the assessor comes around. Only a few of the best men who have a really good dog ever report a dog for assessment. The balance go free. If it is to work this way, I say repeal the law, and do it at once. E. F.

Don't Despair.

Although down around thee lies, Hopes that once mounted to the skies, And thou tremblest with disgust, As they are tempted in the dust, Dead to all the world, save thee, For in thine heart, it is true, The shadow of their lives, Which new ones must pass, e'er they rise.

Fame's Goddess lingers at thy side And smiles, all in the tide, Thou sets to hear his proudly call Aloud thy name, the only draws From thee away, and retreats, Not even a smile she repeats To cheer thy vanity longer, But lightly says, "Grow strong, er."

Don't despair, though uphill, Thy shining goal leads thee still, And thy smile, within thy breast, Food longing, beggled with sunset, The remnant of thy courage cleaves, Only to falter when thou leanest, For support upon it to mount, To the things the world says, mount.

Don't despair, thy trial are thy cross, To change the soul from its dross, Although the refining gives much pain, Yet who can deny the gain, When the soul shines forth changed and new,

The conqueror, stand and true, ergo, Human passions lead before it lies, Its purity oft almost all beneath the skies.

Good Luck, Ky.

The health in this community is not very good.

Mr. Lee Bybee of South Edmonson, is on the sick list.

We are having some severe cold weather at present.

Mr. Andy Garman near this place, wants to buy a good milk cow.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ferguson's infant child is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Misses Myrtle Shave and Bertha Whitlow visited relatives at Curtis last week.

What must a man be that he shall be buried with military honors? He must be dead.

Mr. Emmet Parson and family of Keitner, Adair county, are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Messrs. Lafayette England and Fulton of Missouri are visiting relatives at South Edmonson.

Mr. J. F. Miller of Cyclose, was visiting his sister, Mrs. J. H. Pedigo at this place, last week.

Mrs. Elspeth Whitlow and daughters Misses Martha and Eva of Glasgow, are visiting at Good Luck and Curtis this week.

The lady of this vicinity died last week and was buried at the Moran burying ground.

Mr. Sam Hensley died at his home near this place January 23. Mr. Hensley leaves an aged companion and two daughters, Mrs. Dock Hensley and Miss Nannie Hensley near this place. Mr. Hensley was a member of the Christian church and was a good man always ready to help in time of need. His remains were entered in the Pleasant Grove cemetery in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends.

One of the saddest accidents occurred near here on last Wednesday evening about two o'clock, when Boone, the only son of Henry Perkins, was instantly killed by a tree falling on him. His father and some hands were at work in the new ground cutting timber and the boy was standing on a log by the fire warming and the tree fell contrary to the way they supposed it would and it is thought the smoke kept the boy from seeing the falling tree and he fell upon him killing him instantly. Boone was thirteen years old and was a good obedient boy, so one knew him but to love him. His remains were carried to Little Barren church, and Brother Davis of the United Baptist church conducted funeral services in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends. After funeral services the remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground at Mr. Louis Perkins. The entire family have the sympathy of all.

ALWAYS-THU-SAME.

Most things go to the buyer, but coal goes to the cellar.

A man stole a set of harness the other day never left a trace.

Shaved Off.

Here is a story that is going the rounds: A very devout church deacon being somewhat indisposed was advised by his doctor to try hot toddy, but he objected on account of the bad example set before his family.

"That's easy," said the doctor, "Just call for hot water, saying that you wish to shave, and keep the other ingredients in your own possession."

The next day a neighbor called to inquire how the elder was getting along.

"He seems to be feeling much better," said his wife. "He shaved three times last night and twice this morning."

Monroe County.

(Tompkinsville News)

Mr. Belle Crabtree, of Vernoo, purchased the Bots land lying just north of town which was sold Monday by the Master Commissioner of Barren county at the court house door in this place.

A corn crib containing about twenty-five barrels of corn and beans, situated on the farm of W. C. Harlan, was destroyed by fire last Sunday night. The origin of the fire is not known.

The residence of Dock Kirby was burned Sunday night. The family was not at home and the fire was not discovered in time by the neighbors to save any of the household goods.

The Farmers State Institute will convene at Frankfort February 18, 19 and 20. The Gamaliel Club selected Hon. R. F. Comer, W. H. Reeves and T. W. Comer, members of the club, to represent them in the meeting.

Mr. Henry Pitcock died at his home on Peter's creek last Saturday. He was about sixty years old and was widely known over Barren and Monroe counties and was a relative of the old Pitcock family in this county.

Within a few more weeks Tompkinsville will be in the throes of the skating craze. W. C. Carpenter, of Permisson, has purchased a lot 40 by 80 feet from W. E. Harlan on Third street opposite the residence of R. B. Evans and will at once begin the construction of a skating rink of the above dimensions. Mr. Carpenter will be assisted in the construction and management of the business by Mr. Better Palmore, of Permisson. They propose to make it first class in every particular.

The news reached us Monday that H. G. Bohannon, store-keeper-gauger at the distillery of Smith & English in the western part of this county, happened to the accident of getting his arm dislocated and probably broken last Sunday near Gemalieu. In some way, Mr. Bohannon was thrown out of the wagon in which he was traveling and the wheels passed over his arm.

If there are any poor varieties of apples on the place, it will be a good idea to top graft them this spring to a good kind. The task is neither difficult nor requires much time, while in a couple of years, with cultivation and attention the trees will be bearing the new fruit.—Farmers Home Journal.

The farmers in the Clarksville, Tenn., district, have been making good time for the past week in burning plant beds and in some localities that part of the work will be almost finished. As a general thing more attention is given to the selection of tobacco seed than ever before, hoping thereby to make a better quality and more pounds.

Coughs of Children

Especially night coughs. Nature needs a little help to quiet the irritation, control the inflammation, check the progress of the disease. Our advice is—give the children Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask your doctor if this is his advice also. He knows best. Do as he says.

Ayer's

A special from Frankfort February 6, says: The Franklin county grand jury this afternoon returned an indictment against E. P. Ascraft, of Estill county, charging him with aiding in the escape of Bert Wing, a Louisville wife-murderer, who escaped from the penitentiary on the night of January 6. It was charged that Ascraft, who is a former convict, was seen hanging around the prison on the day Wing escaped. The indictment charges that Ascraft furnished Wing with the means of escape.

WHO FOR PRESIDENT?

A year ago the country generally was for the renomination and election of President Roosevelt. In this feeling we shared. With his positive reiteration that he would not be a candidate, we favored the nomination of Mr. Fairbanks, because of our personal acquaintance with and high estimate of him, as a gentleman and statesman. Since then our personal estimate has not changed, but conditions politically have, and the eyes of the people have turned in another direction. Mr. Fairbank's most active advocates, especially in Kentucky, have assumed the role of critics of the administration of Mr. Roosevelt. In this feeling we do not share. Mr. Roosevelt has made some appointments we thought unwise, but we believe his general policy to have been a wise one, and we favor the nomination of a man who will carry out the same general principles. As to who this shall be, our judgment may err, but at this distance from the convention, it looks like the country is for Mr. Taft, with Mr. Hughes second in the line, but far in the rear. With Mr. Hughes the country lacks acquaintance. He may be all right and he may be very objectionable, but, under these circumstances, we prefer, more capable, and patriotic gentleman in the country. He may not be quite so fiery as Mr. Roosevelt, but he is in thorough accord with Mr. Roosevelt's policies and is as capable of carrying them out as is Mr. Roosevelt himself. He has had exceptional opportunities to acquaint himself with conditions in Panama, the Philippines and most foreign countries as well as our affairs at home. Probably no other man aside from Mr. Roosevelt is so well qualified to deal with every phase of governmental affairs as is the great big Secretary, and it looks as though the people are going to give him a trial.

ALL FOR TAFT.

A meeting of leading Republicans of the Third District was held in Bowling Green Monday and it was decided unanimously to support the candidacy of Mr. Taft for the Presidential nomination. This meeting was called by Mr. J. F. Taylor with the advice of several of his friends, not officially, but for the purpose of testing the sentiment of the district and with a view to all working in harmony, instead of scrapping among ourselves. Eighty-two names responded to the roll call, representing nine of the ten counties. Many more would have been present, but it was a very inclement day and those far from the railroad failed to get there. Calls for opinions developed a sentiment unanimous for Mr. Taft and it was agreed by those present to work together to instruct our delegates for him. Barren county was represented by Messrs. J. F. Taylor, S. T. Young, W. L. Cook, J. T. Patterson, Dr. J. C. McCree, E. H. Mentz, W. H. Jones, C. S. Manier and Geo. W. Trimble. We have not room for the names of all present, but they were among the representative Republicans of the various counties.

TEXAS is nothing truer than that "Whatever a man saith shall be also reap." It was true of Judge Hargis, and equally as true of the Democratic Machine which stood by him.

Terry Hughes Company
White Sale.

It gives us great pleasure to announce at last our Annual White Sale—a thing we have been wishing to do for several weeks, but on account of various hindrances—moving, taking stock, etc.—have been forced to delay same until now.

We believe you will be fully repaid for waiting on us as you have by the extremely attractive values we are in position to offer you.

As usual, we have a number of tables—nine this time—and on them you will find some of the best values you ever saw, especially considering the fact that none of the goods are old and shelf-worn, but every piece bought since our fire last February. These tables will be priced as follows:

| | | |
| Table 1. Choice, per yard.... 5c | Table 2. Choice, per yard... 7c | Table 3. Choice, per yard... 10c |

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McQuown have the sympathy of every one in the death of their little three year old daughter Louise, last Saturday.

American Tobacco Co., Sued.

Commonwealth's Attorney McCandless and County Attorney Larimore, have brought suit in the Hart County Circuit Court against the American Tobacco Co., for $5,000 for alleged conspiracy with the Continental Co., for the control of the tobacco market. This is right, it is the civilized way of fighting wrong-doers and is far superior to outlawry.

MONEY TO LOAN.

Anyone having money they wish to loan on real estate will do well to see Walton & Flowers, as they can loan it on first mortgage, which is gilt-edge.

All who attended the performance of "The Messenger Boy" are loud in their praise of the show and vote it easily the best show of the kind ever witnessed here. Every seat in the house was taken, standing room at a premium and many turned away for lack of even standing room, a thing very unusual at this place.

Mr. Lute Foster of Temple Hill, sold a saddle and harness horse to Mr. Charley Peden here, Tuesday. Mr. Foster has completed selling out his personal property and expects to leave for California in about two weeks.

Fire broke out in the residence of Mr. W. F. Richardson on Green street, last Friday morning, but was subdued after a damage of something like $1,000 by the fire, water and rough handling of furniture.

FOR SALE.

One farm of 121 1/2 acres, in one mile of town. This is one of the best little farms around town. The house is on a hill, with a beautiful drive and a good view of the whole town. The buildings alone on this farm cost over $12,000, and we are in a position to sell this farm for less than one-half what the buildings cost, if sold at once. This is certainly a pretty home, and the best house in Barren county. Anyone wanting a little farm near town to send their children to school cannot beat this. Now, if you want a home of this kind don't stand back and let someone else get the place and you regret not buying it the rest of your life.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. A. B. Comer of Franklin, spent Saturday and Sunday here.

Mr. Clarence Redford has accepted a position with Mr. H. N. Richardson.

Mr. H. K. Wilborn was in Murphersboro, Tenn., last week on business.

Mrs. Wm. Wood who has been so very seriously ill, is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Neatie Settle, of Louisville, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Joe Hulce, near Coral Hill.

Miss Jennie Belle Watson has accepted a position as bookkeeper, with Harlow & Thomas.

Miss Rhoda Lewis of South Fork, is visiting her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McGlocklin.

Mrs. Sarah Wilborn and Mrs. Sam McPherson of Mt. Hermon are both seriously ill with pneumonia.

Miss Addie Snoddy who has been quite ill for several days is sufficiently recovered to return to school.

Mrs. J. J. McGlocklin of South Glasgow, who has been ill for some time, we are sorry to report no better.

Dr. L. E. Williams is in Columbia, on account of the illness of his father, Elder Z. T. Williams, who has pneumonia.

Rev. Malcolm Taylor is out again after being confined to his room for a week with an unusual stubborn attack of grippe.

Mrs. Harry Pace and Mrs. Clem Winn have returned from Bowling Green, where they have been on a visit to Mrs. Winn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wilson.

Miss Elizabeth Wilson has returned to her home near Cave City, after a visit to her sister, Mrs. E. T. Willis. She was accompanied by Master Wilson Willis, the bright little son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Willis.

Mrs. Bryant Strange and children will return to their homes here the last of the week, from Oakland, where they have been with Mrs. Strange's mother, Mrs. Shobe, who has been quite ill, but is better.

Mr. Willis Dearing, of this place, is in receipt of a letter from his niece in Texas informing him of the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. Nancy Dearing who is visiting in that State. The letter stated that Mrs. Dearing was seriously ill and that if a change for the better did not occur in a short time she would not recover.

Mr. U. G. Williams died last Friday at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. S. Jones near Freedom, of consumption at the age of about forty years. He is survived by his wife and four children. His father, Mr. D. C. Williams and one brother, Ben, also survive; him, Glasgow Camp of Modern Woodmen of America conducted funeral services of which society he was a member, having a thousand dollar insurance in force in said society at the time of his death.

Dastardly Deed.

Will Reynolds, a young man of the Etowah country, shot his mother-in-law Mrs. Ben Ward of the same section with a shot gun, last Saturday morning. The wound is said to be of a serious nature, but not necessarily fatal. Reports of the case are conflicting, but it is known that family differences are at the bottom of it. Reynolds was admitted to bail in the sum of $5.00 by Esquire Geo. Ellis, and his trial set for tomorrow.

Since the above was put in type, news has reached us of another shooting at Mr. Ward's. We learn the facts as follows: Lud Borders went on Reynolds' bond, and following the trial, Reynolds hung around Borders' home until Tuesday when he left, saying he was going to Allen county. About midnight, that night shots were fired into the home of Mr. Ben Ward, and both Mr. Ward and a young man named Jim Wood, who was staying there, were shot and it is said that Ward's wound is of a very serious nature. Up to the time of our going to press Reynolds had not been seen though almost the entire population was searching for him. The supposition is of course very strong that Reynolds did the shooting.

Wide Open

C. T. Morrison's Feed Store and Stock Scales. Come in.

M. M. Redding District Deputy for M. W. of A. will be at Temple Hill Friday night Feb. 14th, with a view to organizing a camp at that place. All who desire to become members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Dr. J. C. Wilson of the Cave City section mother of Mrs. E. T. Willis of this place, fell last Saturday, and hurt her hip considerably, but it is hoped not permanently, as she is improving.

At the Christian church Sunday, Elder O. W. Darnold will take for his morning subject, "The Pre-eminence of Christ." The subject at 7 o'clock will be "A Great Reformer."

Elder O. W. Darnold the new pastor of the Christian church, has rooms at J. F. Allan's. Any of his membership desiring to communicate with him please phone him at his study at the church or J. F. Allan's residence.

Mr. Harrison McFarland, son of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. McFarland and Miss Annie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones, were married to Gallesville, Tenn., Sunday. They will reside here, where Mr. McFarland is Rural Carrier on Route No. 5, and Mrs. McFarland has a position in the postoffice.

Clifford, the bright little eighteen months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jordan, near Bruce, this county, was so severely burned Saturday that he may not recover. The parents of the child were engaged in rendering lard. The kettle became too full and Mrs. Jordan dipped out a cup of the boiling lard and set it on a table. The child tipped the cup over and the hot lard covered one side of his face and front of his body. It is thought that the sight of one of his eyes is destroyed and his breast and one arm is severely burned.

The Mt. Hermon section is in the throes of a mad dog scare and up to the present two victims, one the eight year old son of Mr. Jake Olf, of that section who was bitten Friday by a dog supposed to be mad and a little two year old son of Mr. Haid Jackson bitten and scratched by a cat that was supposed to be suffering from the same disease. The Olf child was carried to the famous Edmunds mad stone and it is claimed that the child became quite sick while the mad stone was being applied, but was all right in a short time after.

The Terry-Hughes Co., is now fully equipped for business in their new quarters in the New Rogers Building, and have one of the most up-to-date business houses to be found south of Louisville, in fact for its size, there is no better in the State. One of their latest improvements is the installing of a new cash carrier, something new in Glasgow. With this improvement, the cashier can be reached in a moment from any part of the building without the necessity of a trip by anyone. This will greatly add to the convenience of the establishment and will facilitate business. When it comes to up-to-date-ness, the Terry-Hughes Co., is right in the forefront.

Messrs. R. E. Harlow and U. G. Thomas have bought the grocery business of Mr. B. S. Sweeza, on West Main street and began invoicing yesterday. Until a few weeks ago Mr. Harlow was a member of the firm of Rogers-Harlow Co., and has clearly demonstrated his ability as a business man. Mr. Thomas has been in the goods business at Mt. Hermon for some time and like his associate, is a splendid young business man and a clever gentleman. The new firm will commence business under the most flattering prospects, and their friends have not the shadow of a doubt but what they will meet with success.

Mr. Sweeza has not, as yet, decided what he will do, but for present will take a vacation.

Dr. L. W. Hasen the well-known Cave explorer and curio man, died at his home at Glasgow Junction, Monday after a long illness of a complication of diseases. He is survived by his wife, and also by six children by a former marriage. These are scattered in different parts of the United States, none being around here. It is an interesting coincidence that he was sixty-eight years old on the day of his death and it was also the twenty-fifth anniversary of his last marriage. Dr. Hasen was a man of the kindest heart and no man ever appealed to him for assistance in vain. His interment was in the Jobs burying ground in Edmonson county Tuesday.

Death of E. E. Wilborn.

The sad news reached us Tuesday of the death that morning of Mr. H. H. Wilborn of the Bristolva section after ten days illness of pneumonia. Mr. Wilborn was the picture of health and strength and his sudden taking off is a great shock to his friends. He was about fifty years old, and is survived by his wife, who was a Miss Chlem, and three children. One sister, Mrs. Amanda Dickerson of Bowling Green, also survives him. Mr. Wilborn was a consistent member of the Baptist church and was among its most substantial citizens of the county. Funeral services were held at Poplar Log church yesterday, by Rev. J. R. Marrs and D. T. Tarter, before a large concourse of friends and relatives, after which the remains were interred in the large cemetery at that place.

Mr. Will Kinslow and Miss Rada Kinslow of the Haywood section were married at the home of Mr. John Peden here Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Rev. Malcolm Taylor performing the ceremony. The wedding was a quiet affair, only a few friends being present. Both young people are highly respected in their section and have the best wishes of all.

MATTHEWS & OLIVER.

Death of Alex Scott.

Mr. Alex Scott died at the home of his son a few miles from Glasgow, Tuesday morning, at the age of eighty six years. He is survived by eight children, five of whom live in this county, Messrs. Bert, Jim, Pole and Jasper Scott and Mrs. Tom. Church. Mr. Scott was an old land mark in Barren county and is said to have been a good citizen. One prominent incident in his life, which is remembered by the old inhabitants was his killing Bill Kimble, a saloon keeper, who was advancing on him with an ax handle, in the old Moupin hotel just before the war. The trials lasted for several years, and Scott was kept in jail here almost through the entire time of the war.

Peter's Creek, Ky.

Wheat is the worst prospect I ever saw at this time of year.

J. S. Spillman & Sons have twenty-four nice shoats that will weigh eighty pounds, a sow and pigs, and a Jersey cow that will be fresh in March, for sale.

Feed of all kinds is plentiful, but corn is high and hogs not selling at all. The price is so low the farmer can't feed hogs, and will turn them out to "root or die" and sell the corn.

There will be an average crop of tobacco this year. The farmer is looking with one eye to the tobacco license bill. If it becomes a law the farmer will turn it out with the hogs and set down at home and make his own meat and bread. The farmer can live without raising tobacco. He'll not have money, but he can do without money and stay away from towns and stores. If the law makers will not help the poor farmers, we can live without them. Let them go brother farmer, and don't buy any thing. You can live on what you have, and that will last longer than any one can without bread and meat. They will come when they get hungry. Don't fuss about what they are doing. We don't need any outlaws nor barn burning to hold the ground. Let them repeal the dog law it is not enforced. The honest, poor man in Barren county pays his tax on his dog and the man that ought to pay his taxes on hounds ships them out and says he hasn't got a dog and then says he can beat all such laws. Execute the law and let it stand, it is a good one.

Fifty Golden Years.

A special from Smith's Grove to Monday's Courier-Journal says: Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Knowles celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home near town, over 150 friends and relatives were present. Mr. Knowles, though seventy odd years of age, was as spry and jovial as though he were twenty. Over $100 in gold was presented by relatives and friends and there was a table loaded with gold presents.

Dr. J. S. Grider, who performed the marriage ceremony fifty year ago and the bridesmaid, now Mrs. S. E. Leadman, of Louisville, were present.

Tobacco Sells At Thirty Cents.

The highest price ever paid at an auction sale of tobacco in Lexington was received at the Growers' Warehouse for a small crop belonging to Cook & Tucker, of Scott county, for which 30 cents a pound was realized. A crop of 14,000 pounds, owned by Henton & Sutherland, of Woodford county, brought an average of $13.73 per hundred, and 3,000 pounds belonging to J. D. Wilson, of Georgetown, averaged 17 cents. About 850,000 pounds was sold here to-day, all bringing good prices.—Courier-Journal.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

The use of the mails by bogus publications has been greatly abused, and as a result the mails are loaded with publications, not paid for by the subscribers, but mere advertising sheets using the mails by abusing the liberality of the department. To correct this abuse a new ruling has been made, to which our attention is called by the postmaster.

Glasgow, Ky., Feb. 3, 1908.

EDITOR THE REPUBLICAN:

Dear Sir:—

I hereby call to your notice the new postal law which went into effect on January 1st. Under this law all subscriptions to weekly newspapers must be paid within one year of date of last payment, and failure to comply with this provision forfeits the newspaper mailing privileges at posted rates. The publishers are given until April 1, in which to clear up their lists of all back subscriptions. After April 1, the law must be strictly complied with.

You will please take note of this and govern yourself accordingly.

J. F. TAYLOR, Postmaster.

As the rule must apply to all papers alike, it is not left as a matter of choice to us, but we are compelled to discontinue all subscriptions PAST DUE AS MUCH AS A YEAR, for we are told by Postmaster Taylor in the above letter, as well as properly, that as a sworn officer he is compelled to enforce the law.

Our subscribers have until THE FIRST OF APRIL to settle their accounts. Please notice the date on the bills on this point.

If there is no mistake, that is the date to which you must pay. If you owe the paper please remit.

Kentucky and The Presidency.

[Lexington Leader.]

Kentucky Republicans will be called upon to choose between the sons of two neighboring States in determining their Presidential preferences and selecting delegates to the National Convention which meets in Chicago next June, Vice-President Fairbanks, of Indiana, and Secretary of War Taft, of Ohio.

Vice-President Fairbanks has made a clean, dignified campaign for the Presidency, during the last four years, and has been recognized as a Presidential candidate ever since the McKinley administration. His corporate connections of a busy career at law and his business and political associations have been a handicap to his Presidential aspirations in the present state of the public mind, and even his most devoted friends concede that he is practically out of the race.

The tide has been running so strong for Taft for several months that the reactionary leaders in their desperation are trying to concentrate on Governor Hughes of New York, and he is now the only hope of those who are determined to administer a rebuke to President Roosevelt. Harriman, and Odell and all the corrupt corporation managers and stock-jobbing politicians of New York have consolidated their forces behind Hughes, although they do not wholly like him, because they recognize in him their only hope of defeating Taft, who would have carried New York State itself against any other candidate than the Governor.

Kentucky is overwhelmingly for President Roosevelt and his policies and for Judge Taft at heart, and in the present movement of the reactionary and progressive elements for the control of the National Convention and the party, we do not believe the State can afford to throw away its great influence or cast a shadow of doubt on its loyalty to the great cause by dividing its delegation with Mr. Fairbanks or anyone else.

The masses of Kentucky Republicans and Independent Democrats are for Judge Taft and if he is the nominee the State will be found in the Republican column in November for the second time in its history in a Presidential year.

Estimable gentlemen that he is, Vice-President Fairbanks could not carry Kentucky, and we doubt if any Kentuckian who supports him for sentimental reasons thinks there would be a chance of success in this State if he were at the head of the ticket.

Judge Taft has demonstrated his overwhelming popularity with the people, in the remarkable fact that he is the only candidate who has any strength outside of his home State, and no one questions that the Roosevelt policies appeal to the masses of all parties. Why then risk defeat in Kentucky and in the Nation by indirectly adding a movement which has as its ultimate purpose the nomination of an anti-Roosevelt man upon an anti-Roosevelt platform?

Kentucky is for Taft and we believe it will so declare in its county, district and State conventions.

Good wives and good plantations go by good husbands.

COMMON SENSE

Looks most intelligent people to use only medicine of known composition. There are a few Dr. Pierce's medicines, the names of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrapper and advise its corrections and directions every day growing in its use. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to the public and is the only one of its kind being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from the finest roots by exact processes.

The original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, bris-wine and other medicinal ingredients being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcohol, narcotics or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as given to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages, no medicine will do that, yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, lumpy liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and haw-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated, lead up to and result in a fatal consumption.

Like the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappear, and you if only you give it a thorough and honest trial, you will see that it won't do supernatural things. You must analyze your patients and persuade in its use for a reasonable length of time to get the full benefit. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—more than any amount of lay or non-professional testimonials.

They are not given away to be cornered, and will not be sold by all dealers in medicine at reasonable prices.

A house without woman and firelight is like a body without soul or spirit.

To Move Alexander College.

The Rev. D. McDonald, D. D., on a recent visit to Burkesville, in the interest of the college, gave it out as his opinion that it might be advisable to move the school to a new locality in the near future. Dr. McDonald is the Presbyterian agent for the college and speaks with the authority of the church owning the school. His conclusion in this matter seems to be based upon the fact that the Presbyterian church has expended in Burkesville a vast amount of money in the years past without satisfactory results. The immediate future does not guarantee the belief that conditions are to change in this respect. It is his deliberate opinion that the money invested in buildings and grounds, with the annual appropriation, could be expended to a better advantage in some other locality. Should some other communities in this section make flattering bids it is altogether probable that Dr. McDonald would advocate before the Presbytery the removal of this ancient institution. Two places have been already named as desirous of the securing the school. One of these is the thriving village of Marrowbone, in our own county. The people of that section are financially able to make themselves formidable bidders if they should make up their minds to do so. If it should be decreed that the school must be moved we would like to see it continued in the county of its origin. Marrowbone is an enterprising section and growing more rapidly than any part of the county—made up of a moral, stable and Christian citizenship—that would support a fine school.—Cumberland County News.

Which Of The Two Are You?

Two men walked down the street and rain. One saw colds, fevers, sickness of various kinds and grumbled. The other saw increasing business in the stores, opportunities for helping the unfortunate and the relief on the poor. Which of the two men are you?

Two men were compelled to cross a puddle of water. One saw the dirty mud and smelled the disagreeable odors. The other caught the reflection of the sunlight in the pool and saw millions of diamonds dancing at his feet. Which of the two men are you?

Two men heard a little ragged girl crying on the street. Her dress was torn and her head was hatless. Her shoes gaping wide in the dust; a gushing flood of tears ran down her cheeks and plowed great furrows through the accumulation of dirt that had heaped itself there. One man turned aside with a shrug and a curse and said, "Shut your mouth, hussle." The other stopped a moment, inquired the cause of the trouble, found the little one was motherless, hungry, dejected and friendless. He wiped away the tears with his handkerchief, led the child and placed her in a home. Which of the two are you?

Two ladies saw a newsboy on the street at a late hour, his stock of papers was unsold, for the night was bitter cold. One went her way saying, "The city should not allow these wails to be out on the streets." The other opened her purse, took a dime, bought a paper, gave the boy a smile and passed on her way. Which of the two ladies were you?

You are wondering today, today, friend, why the world frowns at you. Is it because you frown at life? Are you a frowner or a smiler? Which of the two are you?—Big Springs Oklahoma Herald.

Field Peas A Great Crop.

Peas are rich in nitrogen and no better feed for sheep and pigs can be raised. In many parts of the great West hogs are fattened entirely on peas without a bushel of corn. The pork made from peas is firm and sweet and Western packers claim it is superior to any corn fed pork produced.

In Colorado alone more than 500,000 lambs are fattened every year on peas alone. Farmers of the middle West will do well to sow more peas.

The Vanishing Surplus.

State Auditor James has completed a statement showing the gross receipts and disbursements of the Commonwealth for the year ending January 31, in response to a request of the Senate. The statement shows a startling condition of the State finances, and the Auditor declares that there will be a big deficit to face before the next fiscal year is ended.

It develops that $1,073,645.75 has been paid on or prior to January 31, 1908, which was due and should have been paid on or prior to January 1. Of this amount $587,899.85 was for school claims contracted by the Commonwealth before January 1, and should rightfully have been paid at that time.

There is still due the A. & M. College for December teachers' salaries $19,614.70. The total balance still due schools of the State is $83,766.88. Had the above amounts been paid, the cash balance in the State Treasury on January 31 would have been $117,431.38. So the boasted $1,500,000 has shrunk to a little more than $100,000.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

All Delegates from Ohio are for Taft.

The net result of the Republican primaries held throughout Ohio was for W. H. Taft, four delegates-at-large and twenty-two district delegates to the National Convention in Chicago, and a list of delegates to the State Convention to be held March 3.

which will be unanimously in his favor.

The following statement was issued by Arthur I. Voys, the manager of the Taft presidential campaign: "Ohio is for Taft. The result at the primaries recently completes the demonstration. Every county (except one with seven delegates) now has selected its delegates to the State Convention. Every county has selected Taft delegates. The State Convention will be unanimous for Taft and these delegates are for Taft and these delegates are for Taft, and is instructed for Taft. This unanimity also demonstrates that everyone of the forty-six delegates to the National Convention will be for Taft."

Convention May 6th.

The Republican State Central Committee met in Louisville, Tuesday, and fixed Wednesday, May 6th, as the time and Louisville as the place for holding the State Convention, for the purpose of selecting four delegates and four alternates to the National Republican convention. Delegates to this convention will be selected at county mass conventions to be held at the various county seats on Saturday, April 25th. The State convention will also select two electors for the State at large.

Night Riders Take A Town.

Shoot Up Eddyville, Ky.—And Whip Prominent Men.

Eddyville, Ky., Feb. 16.—Night riders, three hundred strong, visited Eddyville at 1 o'clock this (Sunday) morning and whipped ten men, four of whom were severely injured.

Police Judge C. W. Rucker, Lesel Woods, former City Marshal; Press Fralick, who occasionally acted as Deputy City Marshal, and George Robertson, a saloon porter.

The connection between the whipping of the white men and the negroes and the tobacco war in Western Kentucky is not apparent and no one has been able to offer any explanation. None of the victims were known to be either active or influential in opposition to the farmers' pooling movement. No attempt was made at destroying stored tobacco.

The riders were well drilled and well armed. About 250 entered the town from the direction of Trigg County and the remainder from the opposite direction. Over a thousand shots were fired during the course of their stay, but the only casualty reported is that of a young woman, whose face is said to have been grazed by a stray bullet. The home of Judge Rucker was badly damaged before the riders were able to get hold of him, the walls being riddled with bullets, doors and shutters torn off, etc.

After taking each of the men to the edge of town and whipping them, they were allowed to return home.

After the whippings had been administered, the mob awakened County Judge W. L. Crumbaugh and warned him that his immunity from similar punishment hereafter depended entirely on the friendship he was expected to show the tobacco growers' organization. He was told that his gray hairs alone were responsible for his being spared this time.

The only tobacco man visited was J. M. Bradshaw, who is a prize for one of the growers' associations. Mr. Bradshaw was ordered to close up a billiard hall which he owns.

Before leaving the town, the riders announced that they had not finished their work and that they would return before many days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goode, of North lost a fifteen months old son by some kind of fever Monday evening. The little one was not thought to be dangerous and he was left alone in the cradle while the family were at supper. Upon returning a few minutes later, his lifeless body was found. The child was one of a pair of twins, the other being a girl, which is still living. The family have the sympathy of the entire community. Funeral services were held at old Poplar Log

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Wm. Wood is improving. Dr. H. T. Gill of Louisville, spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. W. E. Downing, of Scottsville was here yesterday on business. Judge J. F. Allen left Monday for Owensboro, because of the illness of his father.

Mr. R. W. Comer, of Nashville, spent the first of the week attending to some business here.

Mrs. E. B. McLean who has been ill with rheumatism for three weeks, is considerably improved.

Mr. J. P. Sommer business manager of the Smith's Grove Times, graced our office Monday.

Mr. C. W. Henderson left yesterday for Nashville where he goes to purchase good for his horse.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Cole, of Miles City, Montana, are here on a visit to their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. A. Laney.

Mrs. Sallie Myers returned Saturday, from a four weeks visit to her daughter, Mrs. Henry Hill, of Russellville.

Mr. Perry Bertram left here for his home in Indianapolis, after a visit of two week with friends in the Roseville section.

Mr. Charley Warder is much better from a severe case of grippe, and is expected at his place of business in a day or two.

Mr. Clayton Simmons, of Eighty-Eight, has accepted a position with Matthews & Oliver, who have opened a store in the Harry Pace stand.

Mrs. Sallie Christmas, who has been seriously ill for several days with pneumonia is reported improving, much to the gratification of her many friends.

Dr. L. E. Williams returned Sunday, from Columbia, where he had been to see his father, Elder Z. T. Williams, who had pneumonia, but who is better.

Judge W. S. Smith, of Tompkinsville, is stopping at the Davis Hotel for a week, attending to business in connection with his position in the Revenue Service.

Mr. Clem Shobe, who has been quite ill at the home of Mrs. Joe Lane, here has recovered sufficiently to be able to see his many friends sincerely hope for his ultimate recovery at an early date.

Mr. J. D. Smith of Echo, passed through here Monday, on his way home from Oakland, where he had been to visit his father, Mr. David Smith, who has been quite ill, but is slightly improved.

Dr. E. M. Meador, of Woodburn, was here the first of the week, to visit his brother, Dr. I. P. Meador, and to prescribe for the latter's wife, who has been desperately ill with pneumonia but is now some better.

Ex-Senator E. P. Gillenwaters of Eddyville, was here the first of the week. Mr. Gillenwaters contends the raid of "night riders" had nothing to do with his leaving Eddyville, though he does admit that he saw them and left within an hour.

Miss Aline Franklin left yesterday for Nashville, where she will visit a few days and then leave for Atlanta, Ga., where she is engaged in the millinery business. She was accompanied to Nashville, by Mrs. Thad Coleman of Allensville Ky., who has been Miss Franklin's visitor at this place for a week.

Circuit Court meets at this place on the first Monday in March.

ONE-HALF DOZEN.

Reasons why you should go to Walton & Flowers to buy real estate.

1. Because they have over 200 pieces to pick from.
2. Because they have nothing else to do but to show you; rig always ready.
3. Because they can beat you getting the owner down on his price.
4. Because they have attorneys to examine titles to all property before trying to sell it and you are sure of a clear title.
5. Because, if you are not in shape to pay cash, they can find a man to handle your notes.
6. Because they know what a piece of property is worth when they look at it and will see that you are not robbed on price.

If you don't know where to go to get seed for your stock, I had better tell you. At C. T. Morrison's Feed Store, on East Main street is the place.

Why the Krippendorf Dittman Shoes and Oxford look so well and feel so good they are large inside and small outside. H. D. Ralston & Bro.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Broady of the Lack Branch country, lost an eighteen months old child, Sunday night, the cause being inflammation of the bowels.

Mr. J. C. Brown, of near Clock, in this county had the misfortune to mash his foot very badly one day last week by dropping a stick of wood on it. At present he is doing nicely.

Mrs. James Vancleave, wife of the well-known trader of Cave City, died at the home of husband last Friday at the age of thirty-five, of consumption. She is survived by her husband and three children.

Entertainment.

The primary department of Liberty College will give an entertainment in the College chapel Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Everybody is invited. Admission free.

Mr. D. W. Hodge, an old time surveyor, died at his home near Merry Oaks, last Thursday, at an advanced age. He is survived by a widow and six children. Mrs. Emma Marrs, of Childress, Texas; Mrs. Jovie Dillingham, and Messrs. Wm. Genie and Henry Hodge, all of Merry Oaks, also by one brother, Dr. F. M. Hodge, who is 81 years old.

A very large crowd was on hand last Monday, County Court day. A considerable amount of stock was on sale, and yet not many were sold to the dealers, so it is said, and the reason was that about as many farmers wanted to buy as wanted to sell, in fact there are not many more mules and horses in the country now than the farmers need for work stock. Prices are good, but that is no inducement when the stock is needed at home.

Messrs. John F. Huff and Wood Huff, the well-known insurance agents, will leave Glasgow before March 31st, for Knoxville, Tenn., where they will engage in the insurance business, having secured the agency of some of the best companies, including the Home Insurance Co., with which they were so long identified at this place. It will be remembered that these gentlemen sold their insurance business recently to Messrs. Lewis, Warder & Co., at this place. Huff & Huff have been one of the most enterprising insurance firms of this section, and it is with regret that we chronicle their intended leaving. They are not only first-class insurance men, but are first-class citizens in every particular, and their leaving is a real loss to Glasgow.

Rev. J. J. Hammer Dead.

Rev. John J. Hammer a well known Baptist minister, died at his home on Boyd's creek, three miles out the Tompkinsville road, Friday, night, of pneumonia, after only a few days illness. His death was a great shock to his many friends, as it was not known generally that he was ill. He is survived by his widow and seven children, one brother, Mr. Isaac Hammer, and two sisters Mrs. Frank Barlow and Mrs. Tom Glass.

Mr. Hammer was a son of the late Mr. Emory Hammer, and was born and reared on the farm on which he died. In early manhood, he taught school, and attended the "Prof. Mell" school at this place, where he graduated. He soon commenced preaching with considerable success.

Later, he moved to Buffalo, New York, where he married, and later returned to his old home, where he has since lived, dividing his time between farming and preaching. He possessed a vast fund of information, and while not fluent of speech, he was one of the best educated gentlemen in the county. He was a man of the highest honor, and of positive convictions. It can truly be said of him that a good man has gone. Funeral services were held at the old home residence Sunday afternoon, by Revs. Loving and Winn, after which the remains were interred in the family burying ground.

Offering our customers an unusual inducement, we give a set of hand-some plates with every $10 worth of goods bought of us, provided you have a coupon properly punched. Come and get the coupon free. Bally & Grinstead.

Mr. Morgan Jones and Miss Emma Greer, both of Etolle, drove to Temple Hill last Thursday and were married, Rev. J. R. Marrs performing the ceremony. They were accompanied by Mr. Bee Meadows and Miss Annie Greer, sister of the bride. They are both most excellent people and have a host of friends who wish them a happy journey through life.

Mrs. Emma Cook, wife of Mr. Norman Cook, died at her home near Seymour Thursday of pneumonia after ten days illness, in her seventy-first year. Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, Mr. Wm. Cook, two brothers Drs. W. T. and M. V. Edwards and four sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Cook, Mrs. Maggie Thompson, Mrs. W. A. Bullock and Mrs. F. T. Thompson.

LAUNDRY IMPROVEMENT.

The Home Steam Laundry has added to its already well equipped plant, two new machines of the latest patterns, for finishing collars. Under the old process, collars were frequently left rough on the edges, but with these new machines the collars are first dampened where the turn is made then shaped and made as smooth as could be desired. This will add greatly to the popularity of this home enterprise.

Mr. Geo. W. Copass of Mt. Hermon is in receipt of a letter stating that his brother, Mr. Andrew Jackson Copass died a few days since near Cosad, Neb., of pneumonia. Mr. Copass was sixty two year old. He left Barren county something like twenty years ago, and settled in Nebraska, where he was doing well. He is survived by his widow, who was a Miss Hoss, and several children. He was back here on a visit in the fall of 1906, and expected to return again next fall. He was a member of the Methodist church and an excellent citizen.

There will be a Missionary Rally at night. Everybody cordially invited to attend. Evening Program 7 p. m. Scriptural Reading and Prayer. Duets—Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Taylor. "David Livingston"—W. P. Coombs. Solo—Dr. L. E. Williams. "Our obligation to the Heathen"—V. H. Balford. Song 339. "Japan"—O. W. Donald. Song 215. Benediction.

Last week we mentioned the fact of Bill Reynolds shooting his father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ward, and Mr. Jim Wood, but stated that he had not been brought to town, where he was presented before Judge Bohannon. At his request, his trial was postponed to Monday, March, and, and he was remanded to jail until that time.

Prisoner Skipped.

As Sheriff J. E. Bryant, of Monroe county, was returning from Missouri with Valentius Grindstaff, wanted in Monroe County for seduction, the Sheriff by some manner became detached from his prisoner. He claims that while the train, on which they were passengers, was on a siding near Paducah, Ky., Friday the prisoner made his exit from the train unobserved, regardless of the fact that the coach was full of passengers. When Mr. Bryant reached here he was intercepted by a message which stated that Grindstaff had been captured. He returned at once and passed back through Sunday with his man, and it is only appropriate to say that he was keeping close watch on him. When captured by the Clarksville officer Grindstaff was purchasing a ticket at the depot, but we did not learn where he intended to go.

Rev. Loving To Leave Glasgow.

Rev. J. W. Loving returned last week from Houston, Texas, and on Sunday, tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church at this place, to take effect at once. The matter was to have been acted on by the church last night, and while we went to press too early to report, there is no doubt but that it would be accepted, as Mr. Loving has accepted the pastorate of the Tsum Avenue Baptist church in Houston, and will leave with his wife for that place within a month. Mr. Loving has been pastor of the Baptist church at this place for eight years, and has won a warm place in the hearts of the people of Glasgow and surrounding country, which will be hard to fill. He is a man of strong personality and of great learning. His church is very much devoted to him, and it will be hard to find a man who will fill the place made vacant by his leaving. This notice would be incomplete without saying that Mrs. Loving will leave an aching void, as she is a member of one of the first families in Glasgow, and is herself a lady of the highest order, greatly beloved by her entire acquaintance, which includes most everybody in Glasgow. Houston will be enriched by the advent of these excellent people.

Danville & Scottsville Road.
Scottsville, Ky., Feb. 17—Word comes from J. F. Allen, promoter of the Danville and Scottsville Railroad, that part of the system will be ready before 1908 has passed. The distance is 150 miles through the roughest sort of country, and the track will open up the back counties which heretofore have been dependent on Glasgow as the station for other Kentucky points. The road will be built from McKinney to Liberty, to Columbus to Scottsville, and about thirty men are at work at McKinney at present. Allen says that he now has the money necessary to complete the road.

THE GREATEST THING GEORGE WASHINGTON EVER DID WAS TO TELL HIS FATHER THAT HE CUT DOWN THE CHERRY TREE. HE SET A GOOD EXAMPLE. IT IS EASY TO TELL THE TRUTH WHEN TELLING THE TRUTH WILL DO YOU NO HARM. BUT ARE THERE NOT MANY WHO TELL FALSEHOODS FOR IMMEDIATE BENEFIT RATHER THAN THE TRUTH? WE CHALLENGE ANYONE TO SHOW WHERE THIS STORE EVER MAKES A WRONG STATEMENT ABOUT THE QUALITY OF OUR GOODS OR TO SHOW THAT THE REDUCTIONS WE MAKE IN PRICES AT TIMES ARE NOT GENUINE REDUCTIONS.
