RUSSELLVILLE

Raided By A Gang Of Night Riders.

Russellville, Ky., Jan. 3.—The city was visited by Night Riders this morning between 10 and 1:30 o'clock and a destructive raid made along the same line as those on Princeton and Hopkinsville.

A body of men estimated from 50 to 60 entered the city from the Nashville road and after putting both telephone offices under guard proceeded to destroy the two independent tobacco factories of the town.

The Lockett-Wade factory on Main street was burned and several other houses in its vicinity also went up in flames.

The American Snuff Co's brick factory on Bank street, of which Mr. Pitt was manager, a fine building covering a whole square, was also destroyed. The report is that dynamite was used to demolish the masonry.

Robertson & Brown's planing mill and the liver stable of King & Proctor on Main street, caught from the Lockett-Wade fire and were burned. Also a grocery run by a negro man in the same vicinity. Three cabins occupied by negroes near the factories were also destroyed by the spreading of the flames.

One report is that 4 men were wounded by shots when they were ordered to run.

One citizen named Mosley was hit and Dr. Roberts, of Evansville, who was in the city, was wounded in the face. Also two railroad men whose names were not learned. None of the wounded men was dangerously hurt. The business houses were not shot into. The raid itself was on a smaller scale than the one in Hopkinsville. The property losses have not been figured up, but will not fall under $50,000.

This report is from the Nashville American.

It was said that the night riders experienced practically little difficulty in accomplishing their designs, as at the time of their coming not a soul was upon the streets, and before the citizens were aroused the warehouses were in a light blaze. So far as known at 3 o'clock no steps had been taken to pursue the invaders.

Cakes One Can Make At Home

A few fancy cakes are always an addition, and any one who understands how to make and use fondant (the French cream icing described in the article on cake-making) can do wonders with a comparatively plain cake recipe. The batter may be baked in tiny molds or dropt on flat pans, baked, and put together in pairs with a jelly or cream filling before being iced. Among some especially good cakes are the following:

JUMBLES.—One pound each of butter and sugar, two pounds of sifted pastry flour, three eggs, nine teaspoonfuls of orange-juice, a scant teaspoonful of salt, three teaspoonfuls of baking-powder. Handle lightly, roll rather thin, and sprinkle with granulated sugar before baking in a quick oven.

SPICE FINGERS.—Cream thoroughly three tablespoonfuls of butter with a scant cupful of brown sugar, adding a teaspoonful of powdered cinnamon, a half teaspoonful each of nutmeg and allspice, a quarter of a teaspoonful each of ginger and salt. Stir one teaspoonful of sifted baking-soda into one cupful of rich sour cream, and as it foams add it to the spice mixture alternately with enough graham and white flour (half and half) to make a soft dough. Turn on a floured board and knead into it three tablespoonfuls of seeded raisins, three of currants, and one each of chopped citron and candied orange-peel. Roll out very thin, cut in strips with a jaggling-iron, then sprinkle with powdered sugar, and bake in a moderate oven until brown and crisp.

CHOCOLATE SPONGE CAKES.—In a saucepan put one cupful of fine granulated sugar, two tablespoonfuls of grated chocolate, and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Stand over hot water on the fire until mixed and melted, then take off and beat until very light, adding by degrees one cupful of sifted pastry flour mixed with one teaspoonful of baking-powder. Beat steadily for fifteen minutes, then fold in quickly the stiffly whipped whites of four eggs. Fill tiny greased molds, bake in a slow oven, and ice with white fondant or boiled icing, and decorate with chocolate drops.—From the Cooking Circle in THE CIRCLE for January.

Governor's Fighting Blood Is Up.

Gov. Willson's fighting blood is up. The sorrow and regret, which were depicted on every line of his countenance when he was informed of the attack on Russellville, have given place to an expression of strenuous and unyielding determination to punish the criminals if it takes the entire power of the Governor and the Commonwealth to bring it about.

Nothing which has transpired since his inauguration has given the Governor greater concern than last night's outrage, and he is emphatic in its condemnation and his determination to put an end to such lawlessness in Kentucky.

Governor expressed his desire to afford all protection within the Commonwealth's power to the citizens of Russellville, and that if the State troops were needed he would send them.

"The ku-klux cannot govern Kentucky," he declared emphatically, "and every mother's son who is concerned in these outrages will be punished."

In order to prevent further similar outrages in the State Gov. Willson has offered a reward of $500 for every person who shall be arrested and convicted in Trigg, Caldwell, Lyon, Christian, Logan, Bracken or Mason counties through information given in advance of any intended raid, which will enable the county or State authorities to meet the criminals. The necessary papers offering the reward were drawn up by Secretary of State (McChesney this afternoon.

The purpose of this reward is to induce any one of the many who shall know beforehand of an intended raid to give warning long enough in advance to apprehend the riders. The Governor has announced, in offering these rewards, that the greatest care will be taken to keep the secret of the informant, and that information can be given to the Governor or to the Adjutant General.

Truths About Sleep.

Norman Bridge, Los Angeles, considers that the teaching as to the necessity of a large amount of sleep is often erroneous and leads to over-drugging by powerful and somewhat dangerous medicines. He lays much of the evil to the mental attitude of the sufferer. The horrors of insomnia are but slightly due to want of sleep and very much to the fear of sleeplessness with which the patients are nearly always afflicted.

If they could go to bed and feel that they did not want to go to sleep or did not care whether they slept or not, sleep would probably come before they were aware of it and last the night through. The notion that we go to bed for the purpose of sleeping is a one-sided one. It is bodily rest that we require as much as brain rest, and this bodily rest need not be accompanied with sleep all the time.

Even children do not need as much sleep as has been supposed. We should put ourselves in a position of rest, which of itself, physiologically, induces sleep. We should avoid the irritations, noises, bad air, cold feet, overloaded bowels, etc., which tend to keep us awake and to prevent proper physical rest, and then sleep comes of itself usually and almost always in sufficient quantity. Five or six hours may be as good as eight for some people.—The Family Doctor.

An English magistrate who has lately taken to himself a wig said severely to the prisoner: "H-m! I think I've seen you here before on similar charge." Drunk and Disorderly Woman—No, 'ono's-elp-me, never! The last time I was up afore a bald-headed old cove not a bit like ye.

FROM TEXAS.

San Angelo, Tex., Dec. 9, 1907.

DEAR EDITOR: I arrived here the 7th of November, having been told that it was the "driest" town in Texas. "A land of sunshine" it began raining as soon as I came here and continued for three weeks. The crossings in the streets get so deep with mud an extra force of men have to shovel out a passway so the pedestrians may cross. On the main street last week there were just three crossings, you had to stand and take your turn to cross or wade mud up to your knees. But strange to say after one day's sunshine the streets are firm and smooth as a floor.

In those years took place the financial condition which have been popularly called panics. Between each of these industrial and financial dislocations (a sin 1905, 1884, 1869, 1884, and 1890) came milder buries. The scare which came in latter half of 1907 belonged to the 1884 and 1890 class. Its effects have already almost disappeared, but it has given us lessons to learn. It emphasizes the necessity of getting some of our big insurance companies and other great corporations, more directors who direct, and for a few of our banks more examiners who examine. We need also a little more balance among our people so that they will not be stampeded by every calamity prophet who gets into the newspapers.

Everybody who knows the causes of each of our panics, and who takes an intelligent survey of the present situation, will see that most causes are missing. To-day there is no recent great war (as the war of 1812-15 with England, which helped to bring the panic of 1818, or the civil conflict of 1851-65, which was responsible for several of the factors which aided in precipitating the calamity of 1873). No crop failure (as in 1887). No railroad-building beyond the country's needs (as in 1857 and in 1873). No wildcat banking (as in 1818, 1837, and 1867). No greenback endless chain or silver dilution of the country (as in 1893) to draw gold out of the Treasury.

No gold drain to Europe (like we had in all those years) to meet debts of any kind. No shortage in revenues (as in 1893 and other panics).—The Circle.

This is the greatest market for wool, hides and pecans. I have seen wagon after wagon, six and eight horses to it loaded with pecans.

This is the center for ranchmen and a number of inland towns to secure their supplies. A stage line runs to Sonora and a number of these towns over a hundred miles distance.

It seems so inconvenient in a town covering over 25 square miles not to have a street car line. It is up to one to walk or drive. With many inconveniences here, there are a number of things to be admired. The air is fresh and invigorating, any number have come here thinking they had consumption and are now in perfect health. It is a little difficult for one to get accustomed to the food, as most of the dishes are Mexican, highly flavored with Chili pepper.

As I drove out in the suburbs this afternoon I saw a number of roses in bloom in the yards. The native tree Mesquite, leaves on it look similar to our willow. It is an evergreen.

The trees green, birds singing and men in their shirt sleeves on the bank of the river fishing, makes one think he is in the good old Summer time. By to-morrow it may be snowing, we have all varieties of weather.

I am not capable of giving advice, but if one is willing to eat mud and roost with the guineas, he can save more money here than there. Wages and everything is higher. If you contemplate coming here and live as high life as you do there, I would advise you to save your railroad fare and live contented in "Old Kentucky," unless you are on a sassafras farm and have pulled the bell corn over old Beck all Summer and at last gathered two or three barrels of corn. I truly believe it best to follow Horace Greeley's advice. I find a number of Kentuckians here, who are prosperous and contented, deep down in their hearts they have a longing for the rocks and hills, dog fennel and pennyroyal of Monroe, Barren and Adair counties.

If one has an idea of investing in real estate I am sure this is the opportunity time.

There was a continued drowth here through the Summer, which has made a number want to sell. As soon the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad runs in here, property will advance 100 per cent.

The real estate men here can make one believe this soil will produce anything from an Angora goat to a jack rabbit.

Wandering Willie.

ELY'S CREAM BALM has been tried and not found wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. It has won a place in the family medicine chest among the reliable household remedies, where it is kept at hand for use in treating cold in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or snuffling. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bed case of catarrh.

The Financial Crisis, Past And Present.

The recently flurry made many otherwise level-headed persons declare that a business collapse of the old-fashioned type was upon us. And now after the recent clouds have rolled by, some of the people are predicting that the panic will come in 1908. Perhaps if they continue prophesying long enough prediction will overtake realization. After the most careful scrutiny of the situation which I can give however, I confess that I can see no sign of an approaching collapse which will even remotely resemble those which came in 1818, 1837, 1857, 1873, or 1893.

In those years took place the financial condition which have been popularly called panics. DOCTOR'S ORDER WAS: 'CUTICURA'

For a Bad Case of Eczema on Child—Suffered for Three Months—Disease Reached a Fearful Stage—Pain and Itching were Terrible.

CURED AFTER OTHER PRESCRIPTIONS FAILED

"When I was small I was troubled with eczema for about three months. It was all over my face and covered nearly all of my head. It reached such a state that it was just a large scab all over, and the pain and itching were terrible. I doctored with an able physician for some time and was then advised by him to use the Cuticura Remedy which I did and I was entirely cured. I have not been bothered with it since. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment but do not know exactly how much was used to complete the cure. I can safely say that Cuticura did a lot for me. Miss Anabel Wilson, North Branch, Mich., Oct. 20, 1907."

ITCHING CURED With Cuticura Remedies in Three Days After Six Months of Suffering.

"I suffered fully six months. The trouble began on my arms in little red pimples and it was not long before it was all over my body, limbs, face and hands. It was so bad that I could not rest night or day, and during the six months, I did not get a good night's sleep. I doctored for three or four months and spent at least twenty dollars trying to find a cure but none could be found. Then I saw the Cuticura Remedies advertised, and the next day I purchased some for seventy-five cents at the drugist's. I used them and I was relieved of the itching in three days, and I have never had a sign of any skin disease since. The Cuticura Remedies are the only remedy to use for skin diseases, they have cured me and they will cure others in the same way. J. W. Bloom, R. R. Telegrapher, Holloway, Mich., Nov. 20 and Dec. 29, 1906."

Farm for Sale.

I offer for sale my farm, one mile from town, on the Greensburg Columbia road. This farm is in a fine state of cultivation and is one of the best small stock farms in the State. It is close to town you will have the advantage of good schools and a good market for what you raise. This farm is all but 15 acres, in grass, is all under wire fence and is strong land. Well watered by creek and three never-failing springs, a good barn and house and only five minutes' drive over a good, new pike to town. I MEAN TO SELL.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a resounding one in the eyes of the thousands who were present for the fight. The blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Such a blow would have been fatal to the most valiant man and would have ended the fight. But Corbett was not a man to be easily knocked out. He was a man of iron will and a man of iron nerve. He was a man who would not be easily defeated. He was a man who would not be easily knocked out.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all forms of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other parts of the system. It is a medicine which will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, regarding its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicine from which it will be seen that there is not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 cent stamps to the publisher, Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the readers of a large New York daily paper the following valuable, yet simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargos, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

It is purified and soothing to the sensitive membrane that lines the air-passages. Its made to overcome the disease, not to fool the patient by a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine in it. Do not be talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

If the birds which are killed every year might have saved the country a billion dollars in crops, what would happen if insect eaters destroy? Experts say that without birds agriculturists would be unable to successfully fight the encroachment of plants devouring bugs and that in a short time the land would become unfruitful and barren. That the bird is the most faithful ally of man there can be no question. Yet the wholesale butchers continue without apparent diminution—Iowa State Register and Farmer.

Glasgow Has Held Record.

In its view of the champion of 1907 in the various departments of sports, a news syndicate has compiled a bowling record of 1907 which will be of particular interest to Kentuckians. Individual champions are named, with their scores and sections, and to Joseph F. Morris, formerly of Glasgow, Ky., but now of Seattle, is accredited the highest number of pins in the list.

While Marshall Levey, of Indianapolis, with 624 pins in three games, holds the American championship; F. Sauer, of New York City, with 617, holds the Eastern championship, and J. Noosa, of Quebec, with 613, holds the Canadian championship. Mr. Morris' record is the best by over a hundred pins, and his one-game average of 236 is the highest ever made in an individual contest. His total was 748.

He won his title at Denver last spring, and has been notified by Garry Hermann, President of the A. B. C., that he is expected to compete at Cincinnati in January, when a representative All-American champion will be chosen. Mr. Morris is expected by his team-mates and friends beyond the mountains to carry away the individual championship of the Continent, and he is training every day at his Arcade alleys in Seattle.—Louisville Herald.

You May Need It

Ask your doctor about the wisdom of your keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, ready for colds, coughs, croup, bronchitis. If he says it's all right, then get a bottle of it at once. Why not show a little foresight in such matters? Early treatment, early cure.

The National Tuberculosis Exhibition, which has been at the Jamestown Exposition all during the past summer, will be brought to Louisville where it will be open for two weeks. It is being brought to the State by the Kentucky Anti-Tuberculosis Association which hopes through its educational influence to awaken throughout the State a greater interest in the fight on Tuberculosis and to impress upon the people in every county, including our own, that there is a great opportunity and a great duty in this effort to stamp out the great "white plague," consumption.

In the last few years yellow fever has lost its terrors, and tuberculosis will doubtless also cease to be a source of dread when the people have been taught how to prevent it. This Exhibit, which is conducted by the National Association for the Prevention and Study of Tuberculosis, consists of charts, photographs, models of rooms and tests for the care of patients, and models of sanatoriums and shack for out-door treatment together with many other displays, showing how tuberculosis is combated by the open-air treatment. In adjoining hall lectures illustrated by stereopticon views will be delivered throughout the day and various other lectures will be delivered by prominent physicians at other points in Louisville during its exhibition in that city. No admission will be charged and the halls will be open all day.

Consumption, according to all authorities now-a-days, is not hereditary but is communicated through carelessness from one victim to the rest of the family and, if taken in time, it came under proper treatment be cured. To show to the people of this State, where one in seven of us die of tuberculosis of the lungs, that this dread disease can be cured, and to teach them how to keep others from taking it, is the object of bringing this exhibit to Louisville, which is to cost the Kentucky Anti-Tuberculosis Association about Seven Hundred Dollars. The Exhibit includes no features objectionable to the most fastidious taste, nothing whatever of any one and is intended primarily for well people, not those infected with tuberculosis. According to present plans it will be opened in Louisville on January 10.

On the Opening day there will be held in Louisville a meeting of all the County Health Officers to co-operate with the Kentucky Association and meetings of the various County Boards of Health will be held during the week for the discussion of tuberculosis and to assist in the spreading of a great work.

THURSDAY JAN. 9, 1908.

The steering committee for the Republicans of the Senate are A. R. Burnam, of Richmond, Nat C. Careton, of Louisville, James Bosworth, of Bell county, G. A. Taylor, LaRue county, and A. J. Oliver, of Allen county.

REPRESENTATIVE W. J. GOOCH, of Simpson county, was elected speaker of the House. Mr. Gooch was the Democratic caucus nominee, John F. Haswell, of Breckinridge county, the Republican caucus nominee was defeated by three votes, two Republicans being absent.

HON. H. H. DENHAM Representative of Metcalfe and Monroe, was the only member of the new General Assembly who failed to answer roll call in the caucus held at Frankfort Monday night by the Democrats and Republicans. Denham being confined at home with a spell of pneumonia.

MR. J. C. ALCOCK has bought the interest of his partner, Mr. W. C. Barrickman, in the Jeffersonian, published at Jeffersonton, Ky., and is now sole owner and publisher. Mr. Alcock is the son of Mr. John Alcock of this place and is a practical newspaper man. He is made of the kind of stuff which succeeds and his success is already assured.

THE nomination of former Gov. W. O. Bradley by the Republican caucus as nominee of his party for United States Senator was the surprising result of the caucus. He was the logical and inevitable choice and the unanimity with which his name was welcomed and endorsed, reflects the spirit of the whole State. No stronger, abler or more devoted son could be found to represent Kentucky on the floor of the Senate at Washington than William O. Bradley.

If Kentucky needed a new capitol building—and it did—then it needs a new governor's mansion worse. The old ram-shackled make-shift the Governor is now provided with, is a worse disgrace to the state than the capitol was. The location is also bad, and the Legislature should, by all means provide a home for the Governor, which a man worthy to be governor can be at least comfortable in. Now that we are going to have a creditable State House, let's have a home for the Governor which we will not be ashamed of. A kind of state white house, so to speak.

Two Sorts of Criminals.

THE TOBACCO TRUST has been arrogant and criminal in its operation and richly deserves punishment, but it should be done by law. In opposing it, men may become criminals themselves and injure their friends and themselves more than they do the Trust, besides becoming liable to prosecution, even though no property is destroyed. The law with reference to Kluksukism, reads as follows:

"If any two or more persons shall confederate or band themselves together for the purpose of intimidating, alarming, disturbing or injuring any person or persons, or to rescue any person or persons charged with a public offense from any officer or other person having the lawful custody of any such person or persons with the view of inflicting any kind of punishment on them, or with the view of preventing their lawful prosecution for any such offense or to do any felonious act, they, or either of them, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be confined in the penitentiary not less than one nor more than five years."

UNJUST AND INHUMAN.

The refusal of Judge Morris to grant Caleb Powers freedom upon proper bond will be regarded by all fairminded and reasonable men as unjust and inhuman.

Caleb Powers has already undergone severe penalty for being suspected of crime. The fact that, in the first trial which has allowed anything like an even chance to prove his innocence, so great a majority of the jury should have declared him free from guilt, is reason enough to minds unbiased for permitting him that freedom which the law extended to men whose guilt is a matter of doubt. Nothing is to be gained by continuing to hold this man in durance when the purposes of justice to insure his trial could be as well served by allowing him liberty under proper precaution. There is no desire on the part of the defense to avoid trial. Caleb Powers and his friends are satisfied that acquittal will follow sooner or later before an unprejudiced jury and with a Judge who will preside without political bias. The sending of this prisoner back to his cell in Georgetown jail savors of persecution, and reveals Judge Morris in a light that is most unenviable. The action will bring condemnation from all lovers of fair play and humanity irrespective of party.

The attitude of Judge Morris during the trial led us to expect better things of him than this. We believed we discerned a desire to be fair, to extend equal rights to both sides in the presentation of all competent testimony, and to remove the case as far as possible from the atmosphere of partisanship. We had hoped that he would rise superior to prejudice, and maintain an impartial view of his duty to both Commonwealth and prisoner. But we have been disappointed. In one word he has reversed himself, and shaken the confidence that he had created in his fair and sincerity of purpose.

It was not to be supposed that the Commonwealth Attorney would consent to bail. He is not the type of man who could divest himself of partisanship in sufficient measure to be just, let alone generous, to a victim in his power. He has demonstrated the trial just ended that he is the friend and intimate associate of the personal attorney of Caleb Powers.

SENATOR A. J. OLIVER, of Allen, is the caucus nominee of the Republicans for speaker Pro-term of the Senate.

As Others See Us.

(Nashville American.)

The courts of Kentucky had best quit prosecuting all the mountain section of the State for killing one man, and busy themselves hunting down, convicting and hanging the lawless element who are raiding the peaceful valleys of the State and dealing death and destruction everywhere. If there is any of that $100,000 appropriation left use it in Christian, Logan and Trigg.

In referring to the destruction of property values Governor Willson calls attention to an effect of the "night-riding" which the offenders have overlooked. Such lawlessness as they are practicing in hammering down steadily the values of their own farm lands. Real estate in a lawless territory cannot command the price its own quality might make it worth. While fighting in this manner to get more money for their tobacco they are depreciating their property. They are affecting property values not only in their own section, a whole State must suffer impairment when it appears before the world as a place where life, liberty and private property are at the mercy of incendiaries.—Courier-Journal.

DISAGREED.

The Jury in The Powers Case Stood Ten to Two for Acquittal.

Ten of the jurors held that Powers had not been proved guilty, while two were firm in the belief that he had. The two who believed that the guilt of the defendant had been established were James L. Price, aged 62 years, foreman of the jury, Democrat, and keeper of a general merchandise store at Sherman, seven miles from Williamstown, in Grant county and J. W. Renaker, aged 65 years, Democrat and farmer, at Oddville, Harrison county.

Judge Morris ordered that the jurors be brought into the courtroom. When they had taken their seats Judge asked if an agreement was likely. Foreman Price arose and said the jury was no nearer an agreement than it had been the first day of its deliberations and that he believed an agreement was impossible.

Judge Morris asked if any other juror cared to make an expression. J. C. Linder arose and said that in his opinion an agreement could be reached if more time were taken. Juror Renaker stood up and said: "I am willing to stay here until Christmas, but I am satisfied that if we did stay another 12 months we would not be able to agree."

Juror O'Hara said that he was of the opinion that an agreement might be reached in time if all would "try a little harder." Juror Renaker suggested that Judge Morris ask Jurors Linder and O'Hara what they had been doing all the time in the jury room, adding: "They have done nothing—just been sitting there mostly."

The Judge responded that he had no right or desire to ask what had transpired.

Juror Jewett then arose and said that he did not believe an agreement was possible.

Judge Morris then announced that he would discharge the jury.

As the jurors left their seats Powers stood up and the 10 who had wanted him acquitted filed over to him and shook his hand. One of them, Juror Shinkle, was in tears. He said he would have stayed then until this time next year before he would have voted for anything other than acquittal.

These jurors and at the same time expressed the disappointment that was apparent in his countenance. "I believed," Powers said, "that at this trial I would find 12 men who would see my innocence, but I have been disappointed again. I see that there is still political prejudice against me. However, my hopes are not vanished. I will yet be free."

Foreman Price, when asked how many ballots had been taken and how the voting had stood through the two and half days, said: "We took a great many ballots. I can't say just how many. At the outset there were nine voting not guilty and three voting guilty. The third man was E. J. Marshall. In the afternoon of the first day Marshall was persuaded by argument to join the nine and from that time on every ballot was 10 to 2, Renaker and I voting guilty."

The statement was made by Juror See that he believed that if Renaker had voted with the 10 standing for acquittal Price would have come over and a verdict would have been reached.

The appeal for bail was made in eloquent terms by Attorney Wilson. He based, his claim upon the ill health of Powers. He cited many instances, among them the cases of the Hargis brothers and Ed Callahan, where bail had been granted after a mistrial.

Judge Morris, however, held that, in keeping with the argument of Attorney Franklin, for the state, the law was very clear, and that bail would not be admitted.

Attorney Owens then asked that another trial be begun 10 days hence. Attorney Franklin opposed this with the statement that there are a great many other cases demanding attention in this district and that the time of the regular docket could not be taken up with this case. He moved that the trial be held in July.

Accordingly Judge Morris fixed July 6 as the date.

When it became known that bail had been refused indignation ran high, for Caleb Powers is popular here. For a time matters looked so serious that the jailer refused to allow any one to enter the ante-room where the prisoner was in consultation with his attorneys.

Powers stated Saturday night that he intends to fight the case to the bitter end. The rumor is strongly

A little two-year old child of Mr. Charlie Cox of New Salem died Tuesday. This is the second death in the family in less than two weeks, the child's mother having died last Saturday week.

Hazelip-Smith.
Dr. W. C. Smith, the well-known and deservedly popular young physician of this place, and Miss Pearl Hazelip, a charming young lady of Smiths Grove, were married at Nashville, Tenn., last Friday.

The young lady was enroute to school at Murfreesboro, Tenn., and Dr. Smith accompanied her as far as Nashville. When that point was reached the young couple decided to marry, which they did and returned to the young lady's home at Smith's Grove.

Miss Hazelip is one of the prettiest and most accomplished young ladies in Warren county and is quite popular there. She will be pleasantly remembered by many here as a student at Liberty College.

Dr. Smith located here something like a year ago to practice his profession and in an incredible short time built up a lucrative practice. He is a splendid gentleman and has made many friends since locating here.

Mr. Taurus Dicus, of Earlington, Ky., and Miss Gertrude Hazelip, a sister of Mrs. Smith, were married the following day at Nashville. Miss Gertrude, like Miss Pearl, was also enroute to school, and married under precisely the same circumstances, the ceremony being performed by the same person, and strange to say there was no pre-arranged plan. Neither sister or brother-in-law had any knowledge of the others intentions until they were carried out.

Peden-Martin.

The announcement of the approaching marriage of Mr. Shelton S. Martin of Cave City, to Miss Alice Peden, near town, has been made. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride at 1:30 o'clock on Wednesday, February 5.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Peden, near town, and is a highly accomplished and popular young lady, with a host of friends. The groom is a young man worthy in every respect of the bride he has won.

Found Dead.

Mr. E. T. Wooten who resided on the John Winlock farm in the Beckton section was found dead last Friday morning, supposed to have died from heart trouble. Mr. Wooten was seventy-two years of age at the time of his death. Thursday he had made boards all day and retired that night as well as usual, and was found dead the next morning. He was a member of the Baptist church and held in the highest esteem by his friends.

Mr. Terry Hoover and Miss Bertha E. Nichols, both splendid young people of near Randolph, Metcalfe county, were married at the home of the bride one day last week.

Home Telephone Company.
A large stock barn of Mr. Tom Hurston on Barren river, was destroyed by fire one day last week. Fifty head of horses and mules were in the barn at the time of the fire, but all were saved except one. Several vehicles, a lot of feed and harness and farm tools were burned entailing a loss of something like $3,000 with only $600 insurance. Mr. B. C. Foster, who was drilling a well near the barn at the time, from whose engine it is supposed the barn caught, lost his boiler and engine valued at $400 with no insurance.

The stockholders of the Glasgow Home Telephone Company met Jan. 1, 1908, in the law offices of Harlin & White for the purpose of electing officers and arranging to install their plant. Said meeting was adjourned to meet January 2, 1908, at 8 o'clock a. m., at which time it met and proceeded to elect officers as follows:
W. R. Gardner, President,
J. S. Leech, Vice-President,
Travis Taylor, Secretary,
Geo. Ellis, Treasurer.

On motion, the number of directors was fixed at seven, and S. T. Young, W. F. Richardson, Howe Ralston, Geo. J. Ellis, R. L. Paull, W. J. Allison and Travis Taylor were chosen.

While engaged in plowing sand to be used in the construction of the new steel bridge on Green river, John Rostick, plowed up what he at first thought a small piece of brass, but which proved to be a $5 gold piece, which bears the date of 1811, making it ninety-six years old. The coin was found three feet below the surface, and was probably lost during the Civil War when the troops were located near that place.

Mr. Terry Hoover and Miss Bertha E. Nichols, both splendid young people of near Randolph, Metcalfe county, were married at the home of the bride one day last week.

The Glasgow Milling Company

Has started up their corn and feed mill and are now prepared to furnish the trade with first-class meal and crushed corn feed and to supply the custom exchange at all times. We are in the market for good corn both in the ear and shelled, at the market price. Owing to the delay in getting the machinery, caused by the destruction of first shipment of machinery, in a wreck and fire on the railroad, we have postponed the installing until spring. The public patronage is respectfully solicited for meal and feed.

Form Florida.

Wauchula, Florida.
TO THE GLASGOW REPUBLICAN.

I was a little late getting to the Sunny South this year, cold weather caught me before leaving and a bad cold caught me on my way down here. Therefore I was nearly put out of business on account of it, and have very little news that is of interest to write. I did not get away from Glasgow until the first of November and it was getting quite chilly around the edges by that time and the indications offered about the same temperature along the way, until I got by Montgomery, Ala., then it began to get warmer and by the time I got to this place, all signs of cold weather was gone and seemed more like mid-summer than winter. All products that grows in garden or field was on the market, like we have it in August and September and is yet to a great extent. I saw watermelons and cucumbers in the market last week and I presume such things will be here some time yet. It makes me think it is more like spring than fall or winter. The little frog that stays around the marshy ponds and comes out in February or March with us and croaks to let us know that spring is near by, are croaking like they do in the spring with us, also the little firefly that comes out in May with us, snapping his light, is still here on duty. I guess this will give you some idea of the climate at this place.

I want to tell you something about our bright and flourishing town, it was my intention in the start and here it is. Wauchula is an Indian word and means bird in the nest. I don't know where the comparison comes in, unless that it is a nice location for a town. The town is about one mile west of Peace river on the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, in Desoto county. The road runs through the county near a north and south line, about twenty-five miles from the west line and forty miles from the east line and the town is about ten miles in the county from the north line and fifty miles from the Gulf and eighty miles from the Ocean. The county has over 4000 square miles in it, and there is some talk of dividing it and making Wauchula the county seat of one part. I saw the statistics last winter of the amount of Government land in the State and my recollection is that there was near 50,000 acres in Desoto county. Wauchula is one of the live towns of Florida—no boom town, but a steady go ahead town, meaning to make something of itself. In 1890 the election precinct was twenty miles square and the population was 177. The town was incorporated I think in 1900 and the population that year in the town was 499. In 1905 it was 800 and this year, 1907, the population is 1001. There are two banks, two newspapers, a blacksmith shop, 5 orange packing houses, three churches. The Baptist have just completed a new church out of cement blocks at a cost of $8,000. There are twenty-three business houses, three saw and planing mills, a large crate factory that employs a hundred hands or more, also a twenty ton ice factory in operation. The postoffice receipts in 1900 was $300 and this year will be $3,500.

The number of oranges shipped from this station in 1906-07 was 120,000 boxes. Number of vegetables shipped in 1906 was 63,000 crates, including an eight months drought to grow them in. In 1903 a few watermelons were shipped from this station, in 1904 11 carloads were shipped in 1905, 103 carloads were shipped and they averaged $200 per car last year. Wauchula is the largest town in Florida with no negro population in it, and is located in the best part of Peace river valley for growing oranges and vegetables also it is about one hundred feet higher, which gives it good drainage and healthy place to live.

Mark Nunn Seriously Hurt.

Mark Nunn, a well-known farmer of this county, was seriously injured this afternoon while coming to this city. Mr. Nunn was hauling a load of wood to the Turner-Day-Woolworth Company and just before reaching the factory, the wood he was seated on, fell off the wagon, causing him to slip and fall under the wheels, the wagon running over him breaking an arm, six ribs and his upper jaw. He was removed to the home of his nephew, Chatley Nunn, motorman of the Bowling Green Railway Company, who resides near the boat landing, where a physician was summoned and the wounds were dressed. He is 35 years of age and on account of his age makes his condition serious. He is well known here and has many friends who will regret to learn of his unfortunate accident.—Park City News.

"Lucky 13."

There is food for thought by members of the Thirteen Club in the career of George Miller, just ended, coincident with his unfaithfulness to the hoodoo number.

In the first place, Miller joined the police force some years ago on May 13 and asked permission to wear the hoodoo badge. No. 13, which the other policemen sidestepped. The first week out he stopped a runaway and received a purse for his bravery. Then he saved a woman's life and got a gold watch as a token. He received promotion for attention to duty.

"Lucky 13," as he became known, got a diamond ring, a silver whistle, another gold watch, a new suit of clothes, and finally a cigar store as gifts for devotion to duty "Lucky 13" decided he was too lucky to be a "cop," so he resigned on November 13, and took charge of the gift tobacco store.

The store failed two days after he forsook "Lucky 13." He got a job as night watchman. The kismet had deserted him. He got into trouble for too free use of his night stick. Somehow things didn't go right. Political enemies got the better of him. He was dismissed. His illness had been gaining a hold on him ever since he forsook "Lucky 13."—Atlantic City Dispatch to the New York World.

Do Not Force Laying.

Do not force the hens in order to make them begin to lay. By this we mean that hens should not be fed stimulants in order to hurry them. Of course they must be pushed in a natural way, with good wholesome food, fresh water and healthful surroundings, all of which are necessary to egg production.

Hens that are fed stimulants may possibly begin to lay a few weeks in advance of others, but the effect is usually disastrous and sickness generally results.

Begin early to look after the hens and get them in good conditions before the season arrives. Provide liberally and keep them busy, so that they will not get fat and lazy. All the hens and pullets should be laying before Christmas, and with good care should continue all winter.

Why Feed Bone.

Hens require material for making shells and unless this is supplied eggs will have soft or imperfect shells; of course, soft shell eggs are often laid by hens that are too fat, but usually the trouble comes from lack of material needed. Grain will not completely furnish this material. We should feed bone, either dry crushed or ground green bone. Both are inexpensive and will well repay one for the trouble and cost.

Bones during the winter season are plentiful and can often be had as a gift, but even at a cent a pound they are cheap. The labor of grinding is not great and the work may be done at night or during leisure hours.

Feed systematically, not much at a time but a little every day, and the hens will soon show the effects.

The Modern Version Of It.

"What little boy can tell me the difference between the 'quick' and the 'dead'?" asked the Sunday school teacher.

Willie waved his hand frantically. "Well Willie?"

"Please, ma'am, the 'quick' are the ones that get out of the way of automobiles; the ones that don't are the dead."—Everybody's Magazine.

From Illinois.

Taylorville, Ill.

Well the old year has gone and with it has gone, many sights and experiences that former years have not known some of them bring a ray of sunlight and gladness to our hearts while others thrill our hearts with sadness, but such is life and we lift our helpless souls to God in thoughtfulness that His uplifted hand has been stayed and the wicked world has been spared another year in which to confess his mighty goodness and mercy.

An interesting programme was arranged for the "watch meeting" at our church at ten o'clock. Refreshments were served and the remainder of the old and beginning of the new year was spent in thanksgiving and prayer, while at twelve the bell in the steeple rang out the old year and rang in the new.

Xmas was also a jolly time and for two or three days Old Santa was in Taylorville taking order from the happy boys and girls and at the tree he presided cheerfully in distributing the presents, but one thing that we have missed is the loud reports of guns that rang through the Kentucky hills at Christmas time. I also wished for a holly bush from the bluffs of Old Fallen Timber creek and an arm full of mistletoe from an old walnut tree, would have been acceptable as we buy all of our Christmas decorations.

I received a letter from Cal Sylvia a few days since telling how very sick he had been and am very sorry to hear of his illness and hope by this time he has fully recovered. Also my Aunt Ellen Bailey I hear is sick. I am sorry but can hardly sympathize as I have not been sick a day since I came to the State.

You people of Kentucky don't seem to discuss the money panic much, maybe it has not cut a big figure in guessing that things will come around all O. K. soon.

Well correspondent how are you on temperance by this time? Illinois is awakening to the need of a prohibition State (or some of its good people are.) Why! friends in my short visit to the State Capital last fall I noticed that saloons were a great deal more numerous than grocery stores in Glasgow and of course the city being larger would estimate quite a number and a sign board says Nukes whiskeys that's all and reading it I thought that it is enough to make a demon out of an angel, if its will power happens to be weak enough to drop in at that door. Almost every one will vote for the local option. We would like to take patterns from Olla and send the contents of the saloons through a sewer pipe.

By the way friends, did you know that though the days of miracles have past, there are still things showing people their weakness. Mr. and Mrs. Harrington of Edinburg, have just returned from a trip to Europe where ship wrecked and took in and their lights went out; all long they were driven aimlessly a raging sea, weeping, helplessness they were, while their precious children awaited their return. You may try to be happy they were when they returned through Taylorville on their way home.

SAVE THIS ANYWAY

Here is a simple home-made mixture as given by an eminent authority on Kidney diseases, who makes the statement in a New York daily newspaper, that it will relieve almost any case of Kidney trouble if taken before the stage of Bright's disease. He states that such symptoms as lame back, pain in the side, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, painful and discolored urination, and finally overcome. Here is the recipe:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, 1 ounce; Compound Kargol, 1 ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, 3 ounces. Take a teaspoon after each meal and at bedtime. A well-known druggist is authority that these ingredients are all harmless and easily mixed by shaking well in a bottle. The mixture has a peculiar soothing effect upon the kidney and urinary system, and overcomes the most stubborn mixture is said to remove all blood disorders and cure the Rheumatism by forcing the Kidneys to filter and strain from the blood and system all uric acid and foul, decomposed waste matter, which cause these afflictions. Try it if you aren't well. Save the prescription.

Shepherd—Peden.

Married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Shepherd, their daughter, Miss Alice, to Mr. Ed Peden at 11 a. m. on last Friday by Rev. Blakesley of the Christian church. The young couple departed on the p. m. train for Ponca City, Oklahoma, amid a shower of rice and articles which go to complete the farewell shower. Mention was made last week of Mr. Peden's change from the lumber business at this place to the point above mentioned. May joy and happiness attend them in their new life and home. Both young people were very popular here. No further particulars learned.—Kirgman (Kan.) Journal, Dec. 20, 1907.

How The Dogs Was Saved.

A lady who was lurching on a railroad train with a little boy and dog, suddenly discovered that her little boy was offering a bit of pickle to the dog that was sharing his meal with him. In great alarm and in tones which reversed deep solicitude for the dog, the lady exclaimed: "Stop, Tommy. Don't feed that pickle to the dog. It will make him sick. Eat it yourself."

The One He Liked Best.

A country clergyman on his round of visits interviewed a youngster as to his acquaintance with Bible stories. "My lad," he said, "you have, of course, heard of the parables." "Yes sir," shyly answered the boy, whose mother instructed him in sacred history. "Yes, sir." "Good," said the clergyman. "Now, what do you like the best of all?" "The boy squirmed, but at last, heeding his mother's frowns, he replied: "I guess I like that one where somebody loafs and fishes."—Woman's Home Companion.

The Cough of Consumption

Your doctor will tell you that fresh air and good food are the real cures for consumption. But often the cough is very hard. Hence, we suggest that you ask your doctor about your taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It controls the tickling, quiets the cough.

One of Ayer's Pills at bedtime will cause an increased flow of bile, and produce a gentle laxative effect the day following. Formula on each box. Show it to your doctor. He will understand at a glance. Dose, one pill at bedtime.

Prohibition Order.

A special from Washington says: Postmaster General Meyer has issued an order which has a direct bearing upon the prohibition movement. The order is as follows:
"It is hereby ordered that it shall be a condition of any contract hereafter entered into for carrying the mails upon star, screen, wagon, messenger or special service route that the contract carrier shall not transport intoxicating liquor from one point to another upon such route while in the performance of mail service."
The bids for star route service will be opened Wednesday, January 8, and as a consequence, beginning on July 1 next, every contractor in the States mentioned will be prohibited from carrying intoxicating liquors on his route.
The order will become effective at once, however, in many sections of the country where it is necessary to install new and supplementary service. It is believed that this order will meet the approval of a large number of people, judging by the enormous number of complaints that have been sent here to the pedantment.

Guide With the Current

In Arkansas and Louisiana.
The climate is mild and healthful. You can work out of doors the year round. There are good schools and churches. Live much less expensively than in the North. No costly bars are needed for winter housing.
There is a long growing season—the means bigger and more profitable crops. You can raise and market some crop nearly every month in the year. There is an abundant supply of good, sweet water.
The rainfall is plentiful and evenly distributed. The soil is rich—it's not worked out.
The tax on water power for electric generating is actual value and pay for it in a few years, from the crops, and live comfortably while you are doing it.
Don't the Southwest appeal to you? Just consider whether it's better to take advantage of the wonderful opportunities this territory now offers, or continue where you are, struggling along under adverse conditions, waiting your time and energy trying to make a high-priced farm which is all worked out? Pay. At once before land values take another jump. You can't make a mistake. Delay may mean disappointment. Being in believing. Make a trip of investigation now. It will pay you. Low rate Home Owners' Excursion, Nov. 19, Dec. 3 and 17, 1907.—Railroad return limit—supplies—allowance—book yours. Fill out and mail this coupon at once. It will be one of the best things you ever did.

Mr. Harry W. Amos, one of the leading Republicans of Hart county, has been appointed to the position of Office Deputy in Marshal Long's office at Louisville, to succeed W. A. Blades, who was made Chief Deputy in Dr. Bruners place.

Bert Wing, convicted of the murder of his wife, who was a daughter of Judge Evans, of Greenville, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life, escaped from the penitentiary at Frankfort Tuesday afternoon. He was a trusty and had been there for seventeen years.

Between fifty and seventy-five persons were burned to death Monday night in a fire which destroyed the Rhoads Opera house in Boyertown, Pa. The fire was caused by the explosion of a tank during a church benefit. Most of the victims were women and children.

The discovery of oil on the waters of Bay's Fork creek in Allen county, caused considerable comment in that section. In Allen county, like Barren county, thousands of dollars has been expended in trying to find oil in paying quantities, and to find it floating around on the water in plain sight is enough to cause comment.

After having been on duty in Hopkinsville since Dec. 15, Company H of the First Kentucky was ordered home Tuesday. It is now believed that all danger is over. The Company which was in charge of Capt. Cornell, is composed of sixty men and in charge of the local company.

A redistricting bill offered in the Legislature by W. H. Strange of Hart county, which changes every Congressional district in the State except the Fifth, it is proposed to place Barren in the Eleventh with Adair, Allen, Casey, Clinton, Cumberland, Green, Hart, Metcalfe, Monroe, Pulaski, Russell and Wayne. The district will have a population of 194,285.

One of most important, if not the most important bill, which will be introduced at the present session of the Legislature, is one that was offered Tuesday by Senator Albert Charlton, of Louisville. The bill regulates primary elections and is so drawn that fraud is a difficulty. If this bill is passed and will do what is claimed for it, it will fill a long felt want.

J. Campbell Cantrill, the newly-elected president of the Kentucky Union of the American Society of Equity has issued an address to the farmers of Kentucky. Mr. Cantrill says his organization asks the support of the law-loving and law-abiding citizens of the State. He appeals to the farmers to stand together, and urges that more members be brought into the association.

Gov. Willson will shortly send a special message to the Legislature recommending the passage of a bill providing for an adequate appropriation and the appointment of a State Commission to direct the Lincoln Centennial. The one hundredth anniversary of Lincoln's birth falls on Feb. 12, 1909, and preliminary plans made by the Lincoln Farm Association the celebration of the event at Lincoln's birthplace in Larue County, are well under way. President Roosevelt has been asked to deliver the oration and he has consented.

After several unsuccessful efforts on that part of Auditor Frank P. James and Insurance Commissioner to secure some one to accept the appointment of State Fire Marshal to succeed Mott Ayres, the position was accepted by W. F. Nelkirk, of Springfield, Washington county, and he will assume the duties on Jan. 21, and relieve Col. Ayres, who agreed to hold on until some one had been found.

The new appointee is a trained lawyer and is said to be qualified in every way to manage the office and also to successfully conduct any investigation which may arise.

Accidentally Hurt.

About six weeks ago, Bettie, the little daughter of W. T. Goodman, of Fountain Run, got a lick that proved to be very serious.

While she and her little cousin, Kate Smith, were playing in a wagon near her home, Frank, son of Mr. E. W. Gibbs came up and in some way got into a quarrel with Kate, threw a rock at her but missed her and struck Bettie just below the knee. In a few days she began to suffer terribly and gradually grew worse until Monday, Jan. 6th, the physicians said she would have to undergo an operation. She was at once taken to Nashville and after being thoroughly examined it was pronounced scrofula or white swelling caused from the lick. The leg was taken off just above the knee. We were sorry indeed to hear this. Bettie is an obedient child and is loved by her many friends for her kind, sweet and loving disposition. She is always met with a smile and kind words wherever she goes.

We sincerely hope she will soon recover and be with her host of friends who are anxiously awaiting her return.

They are out of our sight we know not what they are doing where they are, who they are butchering up or what accident may happen them.

Children must have employment. If we can't keep them at home lets tie them to a bed post, give them a book, paper and pencil. Teach them to be contented at home with mother and books, to learn something so as to make useful men and women in the world.

Instead of buying them toy-pistols, slingshots, air-guns, etc., lets buy them some useful literature, and see that they read it.

Instead of indulging them in idleness by letting them run here and there wherever they wish, give them employment and remember the maxim, "Idleness is the devils workshop", of which is very true.

A FRIEND.

Mr. Sant Glass of the Eighty Eight country, has bought a farm near Smiths Grove and together with his family moved there this week.

Hon. J. D. Wilson of Greensburg, has moved to Elizabethtown, where he will engage in the practice of law. Mr. Wilson is well and favorably known here.

Mr. J. F. Paul has resigned his position at Mr. E. L. Mayfield's store and has formed a partnership with Mr. J. S. Lay in the insurance business. Mr. Paul is one of our best business men, and we predict success for him in his new field.—Horse Cave Gazette.

The new bridge between Munfordsville and Woodsonville across Green river has been completed and is now open for travel. The bridge is 1156 feet long, 18 feet wide and cost $40,000. It is owned by a stock company and Col. W. B. Craddock of Munfordsville, is President.

Maj. Wood To Be Re-appointed.

Maj. A. T. Wood, of Mt. Sterling, is to be re-appointed Pension Agent at Louisville. The Major has no opposition; in addition he has made a fine record and it is doubtful if an opponent appears. All the Republican members, with Chairman Ernest, are for him and the nomination will be sent to the Senate at an early date. The President in discussing the matter recently declared his intention of giving Maj. Wood another term.

Elder Donald, of Lexington, Ky., will preach at the Christian church Sunday, Jan. 19th—morning and evening.

Master Roger Edmunds, son of Representative W. F. Edmunds, has been appointed Messenger for the House of Representatives.

Buddie, the youngest child of Mr. Barriek, of Beckton, fell in a corn crusher, last Friday and mashed his hand so badly that one of his fingers had to be amputated.

Mr. John C. Chimbs of Etoile, sold his farm of 75 acres to Mr. Crit Myers for $800, also one mule to Gus Burges for $145. Mr. Chimbs will move to Filton, Ill.

Mr. G. H. Wilborn of near Nobob, has a No. 1 good jack for sale or will exchange for a good work mule or brood mare as part payment. Address him at Glasgow R. F. D. No. 4.

Mr. J. T. Myers of the Hiseville country, fell out of the barn loft, last Saturday and it is feared that he is seriously hurt, as he has not been exactly at himself. No bones were broken.

Harry Lazarus of Bowling Green, was here Saturday and bought 12 head of horses and mules, prices ranging from $85 to $165. He says that good horses and mules will bring just as much as ever and that the demand is good.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Glasgow Water Company, the old board of directors was re-elected, the following officers also re-elected, S. T. Young, President and Manager, J. F. Taylor, Secretary, F. N. Bradford, Treasurer, W. P. Coombs and R. L. Paull, Vice-Presidents.

Friends here have been notified of the marriage of Miss Jessie Settle, formerly of this place, but now of Louisville, to Mr. Joseph Gotten of that city. The young couple were married on the 8th of the present month and will reside with Mrs. Gotten's mother, Mrs. Nessie Settle at 2408 Elliott Avenue, Louisville.

The Rev. L. E. Thompson, a well known Methodist minister and pastor of the Northern Methodist church at Tompkinsville, has resigned and returned to his home in Western Kentucky. His reasons for resigning was the congregation could not pay enough to defray his expenses.

Mr. E. R. Chew is new superintendent of the Pueblo, Colorado, underflow water-works system. This is said to be the largest undertaking of the sort ever attempted West of the Missouri river. It is not yet completed and has already cost $600,000. Mr. Chew, the superintendent and active moving spirit in the work, is well known here, where he has visited his brother, Mr. J. H. Chew.

Creditors of W. F. Bishop, doing business near the depot on the stand pipe hill, filed suit in United States Court Monday, asking that Bishop be declared a bankrupt. The creditors are Otter & Co., Hirsch Bros. & Co., of Louisville, Leach & Ellis, Comer Dry Goods Co., and J. F. Henderson of this city. No schedule of assets and liabilities has been filed.

Mrs. Joe Hulse who fell at her home in the Coral Hill country some time ago and broke her leg so badly that amputation was necessary, is doing nicely and the physicians think that she will be well in a short while. Mrs. Hulse was taking out some ashes, when she fell struck her leg against the ashvessel and striking it in two places.

Mr. G. W. Dixon, of Woodsonville, is dead at the age of 77. Mr. Dixon suffered from a sun-stroke from which he never entirely recovered, over forty years ago. He never ventured from the house when the sun was in sight, and is said to have been afflicted so by even the moon's rays that he carried an umbrella to protect himself from its beams.—Hart County News.

Mr. H. N. Richardson has bought the interest of his partner Mr. J. T. B. Gillenwaters in the grocery business conducted on South Green street and will hereafter conduct the business alone. Mr. Richardson is a clever gentleman, a thorough business man and we predict that he will get his share of business. Mr. J. T. B. Gillenwaters has accepted a position with Mr. E. T. Willis and will have charge of the prescription department. Mr. Gillenwaters has had several years experience in this line of work and is peculiarly fitted for the place. We are glad to note that with this change both gentlemen will still remain in Glasgow, much to the satisfaction of their friends the public generally.

At the home of his daughter Mrs. John C. Francis of Temple Hill, on Sunday, Mr. John Sherley died after an illness of about two weeks. Mr. Sherley was a good citizen and a prominent Mason. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. N. Davis at Poplar Log church. The Masons took charge of the remains after the church services and he was buried with Masonic honors at Poplar Log cemetery. Mr. Sherley was 70 years old and is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. C. Francis of Temple Hill and Mrs. John Piles of Mt. Hermon.

Two Rink Accidents.
Mrs. Minnie Lane, wife of Mr. J. E. Lane suffered a fracture of the left wrist Tuesday afternoon from a fall at Bradford Bros. rink while skating. While the injury is quite painful no permanent injury is likely to result from the accident. Mrs. Lane at last account was resting as well as could be expected.

Last Friday night at the Velvet Tread Skating Rink, Mr. C. M. White the new manager of the Gainesboro Telephone Co., had the misfortune to fall and break one bone of the left wrist, the accident was caused by one of his skates coming loose.

A singular incident in connection with the two accidents is the fact that both victims had their left wrist broken at the same place and almost precisely the same way.

Marriage at Eighty Eight.
Miss Fannie Nunnally, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Nunnally, of Eighty Eight, was married to Frederick Buell LeRoy, a native of Sacramento, Cal. His grandfather was a Count of France and his mother a great-granddaughter of a Lord of England. He is English and French and closely related to the Royal family.

Mr. LeRoy was formerly a merchant of Sacramento, Cal., but at present is a traveling salesman for a wholesale house in Chicago.

Mrs. LeRoy's many friends at Eighty Eight wish them a happy and prosperous voyage through life.

A. FAIRBANKS.

The Moving.
The protracted meeting which has been in progress at the Methodist church here for the past ten days continues with increasing interest.

Rev. Chandler, of Louisville, who is doing the preaching, is a man of more than ordinary ability, thoroughly consecrated and one of the most convincing speakers ever heard here. His logical reasoning with plain comprehensive illustration are bearing fruit, as the large crowds at each service testify. So far there has been six conversions, one addition to the church and a general interest aroused, not confined to that church alone.

Services are held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, a quarter of seven in the evening and prayer meeting at eleven o'clock in the morning at some home in the town, the place being selected and named the preceding night.

The meeting will continue on through this week and perhaps longer.

Our Graded School.
Too much credit can not be given the work being accomplished by the Glasgow Graded School. As an institution of learning it stands second to none of its kind in the state. With a new building modern in every particular, equipped with every convenience possible it stands today a credit to the intelligence of this community and would be a credit to a place of greater intellect did such a place exist. Last, but by no means least—in fact the life of the school—is the faculty. We unhesitatingly say that we do not believe, with all due respect to others, that their equal could be found in the state, every thing considered. Each is peculiarly fitted for his or her special work, selected with that particular feature in view, and the fine reports made by the pupils show conclusively that no mistake has been made in these selections.

With all this and much more which is evident at a glance, there are people who are not taking advantage of these splendid opportunities to educate their children, preferring to let them lounge around the streets, play hooky, and stay from school on first one flimsy pretext or another. Parents should wake up to a realization of the splendid chance their children are missing to secure an education free—a privilege not possible a few years ago.

Will Move Near Glasgow.

Mr. J. W. Fishback, of the Gainesville neighborhood has purchased a small place near Glasgow, Ky., and will go into the poultry business. Mr. Fishback says that he needs to rest awhile for he has worked hard on the farm for the past twenty years and needs to take a rest.

We regret to lose Mr. Fishback as he is one of Allen's most substantial citizens. We hope he will like his new home and be successful in his new business. Whenever he gets proper to come back to Allen county we will kill the fatted calf.—Allen County Times.

Mr. Fishback is a good citizen and at the same time we extend a hearty welcome to him, congratulate our county upon her gain, we extend our sympathy to Allen county upon her loss. Mr. Fishback bought the Lenard Walton farm on the L. & N. pike.

See the $18.50, 10.00, 9.00 and 1.50 overcoats at 9.50, 7.50, 7.00 and $5.00 at

Married in Bakerton.

A special from Marrowbone, Cumberland county, January 2nd, 1908.

At Bakerton, this county, Mr. Jesse Cole and Miss Lee Cheek drove to the residence of the Rev. J. L. Adkins, of the Methodist church, and were married, the Rev. Adkins performing the ceremony. The bridegroom is a son of the Hon. W. H. Cole, former Representative in the Kentucky Legislature. The bride is a daughter of Mr. James Cheek, a wealthy farmer.

New Firm.

We have rented the room now occupied by Mrs. H. W. Pace, on Green street and on February 1st will open up with a stock of general merchandise, both old and new. We propose to handle second-hand goods as well as new goods, of most all classes. Those having goods to sell as well as those wanting to buy, will do well to bear this in mind and look out for February 1st.

PUBLIC SALE!

As committee of James Bacon, I will on Saturday, Jan. 18, 1908, at the residence of said Bacon, one mile West of Eighty Eight, Ky., sell the personal property of said Bacon, consisting of 9 mules, 3 horses, 5 head of cattle, about 40 bushels of wheat, 30 barrels corn, wagons, buggy, farming implements, etc.

The mules are good ones, from 1 to 4 years old.
Terms made known on day of sale.
Howe Raiston, Committee for James Bacon.
Sherley Hotel.

I have moved from the New Enterprise hotel, into the large brick building on Main street, formerly known as the Long House, and have fitted up the same for a First Class Hotel. The building has been completely overhauled, painted, papered and renovated from top to bottom. I have it beautifully furnished and with electric lights in every room. I am now better than ever prepared to give my friends First Class accommodations.
Give me a trial.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Glasgow Water Company, the old board of directors was re-elected, the following officers also re-elected, S. T. Young, President and Manager, J. F. Taylor, Secretary, F. N. Bradford, Treasurer, W. P. Coombs and R. L. Paull, Vice-Presidents.

Friends here have been notified of the marriage of Miss Jessie Settle, formerly of this place, but now of Louisville, to Mr. Joseph Gotten of that city. The young couple were married on the 8th of the present month and will reside with Mrs. Gotten's mother, Mrs. Nessie Settle at 2408 Elliott Avenue, Louisville.

The Rev. L. E. Thompson, a well known Methodist minister and pastor of the Northern Methodist church at Tompkinsville, has resigned and returned to his home in Western Kentucky. His reasons for resigning was the congregation could not pay enough to defray his expenses.

Mr. E. R. Chew is new superintendent of the Pueblo, Colorado, underflow water-works system. This is said to be the largest undertaking of the sort ever attempted West of the Missouri river. It is not yet completed and has already cost $600,000. Mr. Chew, the superintendent and active moving spirit in the work, is well known here, where he has visited his brother, Mr. J. H. Chew.

Creditors of W. F. Bishop, doing business near the depot on the stand pipe hill, filed suit in United States Court Monday, asking that Bishop be declared a bankrupt. The creditors are Otter & Co., Hirsch Bros. & Co., of Louisville, Leach & Ellis, Comer Dry Goods Co., and J. F. Henderson of this city. No schedule of assets and liabilities has been filed.

We are glad to note that with this change both gentlemen will still remain in Glasgow, much to the satisfaction of their friends the public generally.

At the home of his daughter Mrs. John C. Francis of Temple Hill, on Sunday, Mr. John Sherley died after an illness of about two weeks. Mr. Sherley was a good citizen and a prominent Mason. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. N. Davis at Poplar Log church. The Masons took charge of the remains after the church services and he was buried with Masonic honors at Poplar Log cemetery. Mr. Sherley was 70 years old and is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. C. Francis of Temple Hill and Mrs. John Piles of Mt. Hermon.

Two Rink Accidents.
Mrs. Minnie Lane, wife of Mr. J. E. Lane suffered a fracture of the left wrist Tuesday afternoon from a fall at Bradford Bros. rink while skating. While the injury is quite painful no permanent injury is likely to result from the accident. Mrs. Lane at last account was resting as well as could be expected.

Last Friday night at the Velvet Tread Skating Rink, Mr. C. M. White the new manager of the Gainesboro Telephone Co., had the misfortune to fall and break one bone of the left wrist, the accident was caused by one of his skates coming loose.

A singular incident in connection with the two accidents is the fact that both victims had their left wrist broken at the same place and almost precisely the same way.

Marriage at Eighty Eight.
Miss Fannie Nunnally, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Nunnally, of Eighty Eight, was married to Frederick Buell LeRoy, a native of Sacramento, Cal. His grandfather was a Count of France and his mother a great-granddaughter of a Lord of England. He is English and French and closely related to the Royal family.

Mr. LeRoy was formerly a merchant of Sacramento, Cal., but at present is a traveling salesman for a wholesale house in Chicago.

Mrs. LeRoy's many friends at Eighty Eight wish them a happy and prosperous voyage through life.

A. FAIRBANKS.

The Moving.
The protracted meeting which has been in progress at the Methodist church here for the past ten days continues with increasing interest.

Rev. Chandler, of Louisville, who is doing the preaching, is a man of more than ordinary ability, thoroughly consecrated and one of the most convincing speakers ever heard here. His logical reasoning with plain comprehensive illustration are bearing fruit, as the large crowds at each service testify. So far there has been six conversions, one addition to the church and a general interest aroused, not confined to that church alone.

Services are held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, a quarter of seven in the evening and prayer meeting at eleven o'clock in the morning at some home in the town, the place being selected and named the preceding night.

The meeting will continue on through this week and perhaps longer.

Our Graded School.
Too much credit can not be given the work being accomplished by the Glasgow Graded School. As an institution of learning it stands second to none of its kind in the state. With a new building modern in every particular, equipped with every convenience possible it stands today a credit to the intelligence of this community and would be a credit to a place of greater intellect did such a place exist. Last, but by no means least—in fact the life of the school—is the faculty. We unhesitatingly say that we do not believe, with all due respect to others, that their equal could be found in the state, every thing considered. Each is peculiarly fitted for his or her special work, selected with that particular feature in view, and the fine reports made by the pupils show conclusively that no mistake has been made in these selections.

With all this and much more which is evident at a glance, there are people who are not taking advantage of these splendid opportunities to educate their children, preferring to let them lounge around the streets, play hooky, and stay from school on first one flimsy pretext or another. Parents should wake up to a realization of the splendid chance their children are missing to secure an education free—a privilege not possible a few years ago.

A SLAVE TO DUTY
Also a Mean Trick Played on a Friend.

A hurried glance under the closely drawn shade convinced Mrs. Owen that this time, at least, it was a neighbor who stood on her doorstep, and not that sticky person with something to sell.

"Come right in, Mrs. Smythe," said Mrs. Owen, hospitably.

"The shades were drawn and I was afraid you were away from home," said her visitor, making herself comfortable.

"No, I put them down so I can peek out when the bell rings. If it's a promoter or canvasser, I don't open the door. They always persuade me to buy against my own judgment. I can't trust myself, so don't take any chances."

"But if you don't need the article—"

"But I can't get rid of them. They either make me think that I can't do without what they are selling, or they work on my sympathies. The house is full of hair restorer and breakfast foods, to say nothing of court plaster, shoe strings and brooms."

"But a woman of your intelligence would only buy what was worth the money."

Mrs. Owen looked pleased.

"I wish I was as good a bargain hunter as you, Mrs. Smythe."

"When you are my age, my dear, you will be a wonder. I just ran in to tell you of the bargain I got yesterday. It's a real snap. I subscribed for some beautiful books—13 volumes at three dollars a month, printed on hand-made paper and the loveliest bindings—"

"We don't need any books. I don't get time to read. With housework and the children's clothes—"

"That's just it, Mrs. Owen; you are a slave to duty. I believe in keeping pace with my husband's brains. I don't intend to forfeit his love by letting my intellect get rusty. Some women don't care. They think their husbands can't escape, and so they neglect this great duty."

Mrs. Owen smiled pleasantly. She felt no anxiety on that score.

"I read in one of my new books about the belfry in Bruges, and last night when Mr. Smythe looked bored and restless I just opened a conversation and steered it to the subject on which I had been studying. He had lots of interesting things to say, and seemed so pleased to find me so well informed. Now if I hadn't those books I might have been stupid, and he'd have gone to the club instead of having such a nice evening at home. A woman should not be a slave to household duties. No wonder men tire of their wives—"

"But Mr. Owen never tires of me."

"That's just it. He will. You won't know it at first. It creeps like a little serpent—"

"My goodness! you don't mean to say—"

"Yes, I do. Unless you keep posted on what's doing in the world, as a man does, it is bound to come. I read about a man who loved his wife for ten years and as she became occupied with her household affairs he began going to the theaters—and he met another woman."

"Oh, Mrs. Smythe, you frighten me! What if my husband should be led astray that way?"

"I don't want to make you uneasy—but if you won't do anything to prevent—well, there's no telling."

"What can I do? Please advise me. It would kill me to lose him! We are all the world to each other."

"Yes, now, while you are young, and pretty. But some time he will tire of you and your petty troubles," rising to go.

"O, Mrs. Smythe, don't go yet. You have not told me what to do. Don't leave me with this awful tragedy staring me in the face."

"People seldom take advice—that's for their good."

"I'll take anything that you say."

"If you would read—"

"I'll study night and day."

"It's only necessary to keep a little ahead of your husband—and turn the conversation into the proper channel. Those books of mine have a little of everything select—but, perhaps, you'd rather select your own reading?"

"No, no, I want the kind you have."

"Ahem! I suppose I could—"

"O, will you lend—"

"I was going to say I could sell you mine or—"

"I can't take yours. You might not be able to get more at that price. Do you know the agent's name? I'll go right out and look for him."

"I am glad you realize what a family blessing those books are. I have just taken the agency for them."

"How smart of you! I'll pay you the cash and not bother with the monthly installments."

Sentiment in a Pawnshop.

A watch had just passed from the hands of a seedy young man into those of a pawnbroker. Before the young man got out of the shop the broker called him back. "Here's a picture of a woman's picture—in the back of this watch," he said. "You'd better take it out." The young man blushed. "It isn't worth while," he said, "I'll redeem the thing in a week or two."

"Maybe you will and maybe you won't," retorted the broker. "You never can tell about these things. I may not be strong on sentiment, but one thing I insist on is that no man shall leave a woman's picture in a watch that he passes here."

Eggs became so high in New York this fall that it caused a stream of imports to set in from England. The blessed tariff, of course, got in its work on these eggs laid by foreign pauper labor, but it did no good by way of protection on account of the American hen being so badly behind in her work.

ALL HAD THEIR NICKNAMES
American Presidents Had Various Cognomens Bestowed by Friend or Foe.

Washington was nicknamed the father of his country, Americus Fabius, the Cincinnatus of the west, atlas of America, lovely Georgicus (a sarcastic nickname applied by the English soldiery), flower of the forest, deliverer of America, stepfather of his country (applied by bitter opponents during his presidency), and savior of his country; Adams was named colossus of independence; Jefferson, sage of Monticello and long Tom; Madison, father of the constitution; Monroe, last cocked hat; J. Q. Adams, old man eloquent; Jackson, old hickory, big knife and sharp knife, hero of New Orleans, gin-rail and old hero; Van Buren was little magician, wizard of Kinderhook and King Martin the First; Harrison, tippecanoe, old tip and Washington of the west; Tyler, young hickory and accidental president; Polk, young hickory; Taylor, rough and ready, old Buena Vista and old Zach; Fillmore, the American Louis Phillippe.

THE GREAT WORLD FUTURE.
It grows clearer every day that east and west are never to fuse; that the far east is not to become Occidentalized; that Japan or China, or Japan and China together, will sooner or later make the China seas no place for the colonizing or pioneering European. There will be great powers there as well as in Europe and America. It is our interest to keep a watchful eye on this transformation, and, forgetting old theories and prejudices, to shape our policy to meet a new and unexampled situation.—London Spectator.

THE DAUGHTER BALKED.
"I thought," said old Groucherly, "that I could save money by refusing to give my consent to my daughter's marriage with young Huggins, but it's no go."

"What's the trouble?" queried the friend of the family.

"She declines to elope," explained the old man, with a large, open faced grin.

"If an S and I and O and U
With an X at the end, spell Su;
And an E and a Y and an E spell I,
Pray what is a speller to do?
Then, if also an S and I and a G,
And an H E D spelled side,
There's nothing much left for a speller
to do
But to go and commit sinouseyesighe d.

WHY BACHELORS ARE BORES.
Somebody has started the idea that bachelors sink down into a dull monotonous condition of boredom for themselves, and they are apt to bore others from the sheer dreariness of their lives. Married men are said to be much more cheerful, light hearted and amusing than the bachelor tribe in general. A single man has so much more time on his hands than the benedict that he is apt to mope and regard himself a martyr. At the same time one must confess that some married men become fearful old fogies. And there is not much to choose between an old fogy and a dull bore.

TWO REMARKABLE CURES OF ECZEMA
Over Twenty-three Years Ago Baby Had Severe Attack—Years Later Grandfather Suffered Torments with the Disease—Virulent Sores Developed from Knees to Toes.

BOTH OWE COMPLETE RECOVERY TO CUTICURA

"In 1864 my grandson, a babe, had an attack of eczema, and after trying the doctors to the extent of heavy bills and an increase of the disease and suffering, I recommended Cuticura and in a few weeks the child was well. He is to-day a strong man and a brilliant boy free from the disease. A few years ago I contracted eczema, and became in a few weeks a whole winter passed without once having on shoes, my ankles and nearly from the knees to the feet being covered with virulent sores. I tried practitioners, specialists, dermatologists, etc., to no purpose. My daughter-in-law reminded me of having prescribed Cuticura for my grandson more than twenty years ago. I at once procured the Cuticura Remedies and found immediate improvement and final cure, till to-day, though well along in years, I am as though I had never had the disease. I am well known in the vicinity of Louisville and Cincinnati, and all this could be verified by witnesses. M. W. LeRoux, 845 Seventh St., Louisville, Ky., April 23 and May 14, 1907."

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurements, as in some demand remedies of extraordinary virtue to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven by testimonials of remarkable cures when many remedies and even physicians have failed. One set is often sufficient to cure.

Cuticura Soap (Use) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (Use) to Heal the Skin, Cuticura Pills (Use) to Purify the Blood. Sold throughout the world. Foster, Drug & Chem. Co., Boston, Mass.

Get Mailed Free, Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

AMERICAN WOMEN IN EUROPE.
The American woman, who is a very practical person, is blind to the virtues of a thin woolen cloth for a traveling dress, and pins her faith instead to taffetas. A short skirt and a bolero or a much-tucked blouse-bodice (which she calls "a waist") of olive green, navy or cigar brown taffetas, is almost a uniform with our American visitors on globe trotting intent.

SO SAFE.
"My ideal of a happy life," murmured the czar, wearily, as the discovery of three new conspiracies was reported to him, "is on the lines of an American musical comedy."

"Why so, sire?" asked the astonished prime minister.

"Because in that there is never the suspicion of a plot," replied the autocrat, enviously.

Misery loves company—and it never gets lonesome.

Men do a lot of unnecessary things in this world and women say a lot of unnecessary things.

ITS DAILY THRILL
The through train from the west had stopped at the little station where the overland flyer from the east was to pass.

"What is the population of your village?" asked one of the passengers.

"I don't know, sir," said the station agent, "but if the train doesn't leave within the next five minutes you'll have time to count 'em for yourself. They're all here at the depot."

When the Hair Falls

Stop it! And why not? Falling hair is a disease, a regular disease, and Ayer's Hair Vigor, as made from our new improved formula, quickly and completely destroys that disease. The hair stops falling out, grows more rapidly, and all dandruff disappears.

Does not change the color of the hair.

The Old Franks Mill road leading from here to Glasgow is nearly unpassable at this time. It is not mud I have reference to, but gulleys, wash-outs, rough and rocky and the worst of all the culverts over the various drains, etc., are absolutely dangerous. Great holes in many places and horses are liable to get their feet hung up any time now. This road ought to be looked after at an early date as this road is traveled regularly by the public.

not, taste not, handle not," a generation will be raised free from the influence of strong drink.
The law will fall unless it be sustained by public sentiment such as we have outlined; by a sentiment that exists permanently and not temporarily, but a campaign such as we have indicated, a campaign of education extending through twenty years, is necessary if the law is to be enforced. In time this home education makes the law unnecessary, because when men refuse to drink there is no necessity for law forbidding them to drink.
That time is far off, and at present Southern communities are protecting themselves against the crossroad grogeries and the corner saloons by laws forbidding the sale in the different counties and States. In the South it is largely a matter of self-protection. It is not so much a temperance war as it is a determination on the part of the people to maintain order not only in the cities where we have organized police forces, but in the country districts where men are exposed to more danger from the brutal and the ignorant, from the drunkard who puts a thief in his mouth to steal his brains away.—Home and Farm.

THE WHISKY QUESTION.

The whisky question presents itself to the farmer from two aspects. First, as a personal question: What shall each man do in regard to this matter? Some will become total abstainers. Some will be in a class that rarely takes a drink. Some will be in a class that occasionally drinks because they find no danger in it for social purposes or even for medicinal purposes. Others will drink too frequently. Others will drink constantly. So down to the last drunkard in the gutter.
Each man determines for himself into which class he shall fall.

The other phase of the question is as to the restraint the State may place upon each individual. In other words, whether the State shall allow men themselves to decide these points or whether to a large extent it will decide the question itself for its citizens.

In Georgia recently they passed a law prohibiting the sale of liquor in any part of the State. In Kentucky nearly 90 per cent. of the counties have, under the local option law, voted to forbid the sale of liquor in each of these counties.

Each State is dealing with the matter in its own way, according to its own conditions. Home and Farm goes into many States, and in these States there is a varied opinion concerning the law. There ought to be no great variety of opinions concerning temperance. In our judgment the question will finally be settled by the attitude fathers and their homes, the church and of social life. The children are

New Postal Regulation.

There went into effect on January 1st a new postal regulation which will have a material effect on newspapers, as the government, under this regulation, forces them to collect in advance all subscriptions, or to deny the privilege of the mails at pound rates. The law provides that papers cannot be mailed at pound rates after the subscription has lapsed the following lengths of time: Daily paper, three months; tri-weeklies, six months; semi-weeklies, nine months, and weeklies one year. While the rule was made the first of the year publishers are given until April 1st to get their affairs into shape to observe the rule. We call the attention of our subscribers to this new law and urge them to look at the date on the label which tells when their subscription has expired.

Pup Hats a Razor Blade.

Charles Bissell, a well known tobacco grower of Suffed, Conn., a few months ago gave Michael Kanealy, of this city, chairman of the Republican state committee, a wire-haired terrier pup. Since the dog's advent members of the Kanealy family have had difficulty keeping track of their shoes, wearing apparel, hair brushes, etc., which the terrier carried off. The pup pounced upon a safety razor yesterday, bit the blade in two and proceeded to masticate it.
The dog swallowed the steel blade and wagged its tail in a satisfied way. The terrier has been under close observation ever since, but doesn't seem to be the worse for the razor blade. In fact, it was more than a little pleased, and seems to be enjoying it.

Put Puppies in Mail Box.

Lawrence Bunnell, fifteen years old and residing in Warren county, was fined yesterday in the United States District Court the sum of $15 after pleading guilty to placing a dog in a mail box of the Horse Cave rural free delivery division.
The boy, on August 3, together with his brother and Henry Cox and Cecil and Fred Martin, took a number of "puppies" and placed them in mail boxes, where they were found later by the carriers of the route. The matter was reported to the Post-office Department and indictment by the Federal jury followed. The cases against the other boys were dismissed.—Courier-Journal.

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can. In which alcohol is used in the stomach, as well as the medicinal roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot, and Black Cherry bark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklets which quote extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Dr. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as all bilious liver complaints and "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.
The Golden Medical Discovery makes the most of the medicinal roots and berries, and is a powerful purifier and invigorant, and is a most valuable remedy for all ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels, and all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing by applying to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the All-Healing Salve will reach you by return post.
You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine or know its composition, for every dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Forty-Niner Called.

A special from Smith's Grove to Friday's Courier-Journal says: "Valentine Moulder, aged seventy-two years, died at his home near Moberly, this county, after a long illness. He went to California, overland in 1849, where he worked in the gold fields a number of years, returning by ship around Cape Horn, and to New York in 1862. He enlisted in a New York regiment and served throughout the remainder of the war. He returned to Kentucky in 1865 and married. He served his district as Magistrate for eight years, and was a candidate for the Legislature, and later was a candidate for County Judge. He leaves a wife and five children."

Human love can be tired out, can be starved, or killed by abuse. But notice the dog. Let him love and be devoted to a master, and neither hunger nor thirst, nor cold nor neglect, nor abuse on the part of his master alienates him. He is faithful, constant, devoted still. And these animals love enough to sacrifice their lives for their young and sometimes to die of grief on the graves of their human masters.

Italians of the poorer class are noted for their general good health. This is to some extent attributed to the fact that the working people of Italy eat less meat than those of any other European nation.
In England the wife is the queen, in France the companion, in Germany the housekeeper, and in Italy the slave, is the burden of an old saying. In America she seems to be a little of all the others.

The country is loaded with hogs—nobody wanting to buy, and fat hogs on the market are lower than for several years. The hogs are all healthy and doing fine. No cattle scarcely at all are being fed for the winter market. Prices on all kinds of stock has gone lower which will give a Kentucky farmer the blues.

Rev. J. M. Bruce, a Baptist minister who almost everyone in Southern Kentucky knows, and who has been preaching at Antioch for the Baptist a year, will soon close his pastoral labors there and then this leaves this band of worshippers without a shepherd. Bro. Bruce has done a great work in this portion of the State for the Baptist denomination.

While so much is being said and such great damages by fire prevails, in regard to the tobacco affairs, our farmers who are not members of the Society of Equity are going ahead burning plant beds this winter as fast as the weather will permit. The pool men are standing off and not doing anything towards a tobacco crop and are asking their farmer friends to not raise any this year.

Rev. John H. Page who has been preaching and teaching for a number of years in Hart and Barren counties, has lately moved to Brownsville in Edmonson county when he has been called to the care of the Baptist church there, for three fourths of his time. While we condole Hart and Barren counties, in the loss, we congratulate Edmonson for her gain.

Last summer when farmers cut and put up so much hay, it did look then that there would not be any buyers this winter, but far from that, already buyers are coming out thick and fast. Prices ranging from 50 to 80 cents per hundred pounds. By all means our people should raise hay enough to do them from one year to another. We have some of the finest grass land in the world and a great deal of that unoccupied.

What A Meter Is.

The scientific unit of length is the meter, and it was originally designed to be a natural standard to replace the perfectly arbitrary "yard." It was intended to be exactly one-ten-millionth part of the earth's quadrant, and was at first accepted 62 such. More careful and accurate measurement of the quadrant however, showed that the whose length at a degree C. at the epoch A. D. 1906 is equal to 1,553,164 times the wave-length of the red line of the spectrum of cadmium when the latter is observed in dry air at the temperature of 15 degrees C. of the normal hydrogen-scale at a pressure of 760mm. of mercury at 0 degree C."

There is so much Rheumatism here in our neighborhood now that the following advice by an eminent authority, who writes for readers of a large Eastern daily paper, will be highly appreciated by those who suffer:

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and torturous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the Kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after while.

Our home druggists say they will either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription ready to take if our readers ask them.

A man who figures has sent to the national bureau of statistics some facts of speech. He estimates that a woman talks eight times as much as a man; that she utters on an average 2,500 sentences a day, whereas only 300 come from him. He asserts that the woman who is a great talker is invariably robust and full chested.

There is wealth and independence for you along the Cotton Belt Route in Arkansas and Texas—

Why?

Because the soil is rich. It is not worked out. It can be bought NOW for from $5 to $25 an acre—about one-fourth of its value.

The Climate is mild and healthful. You can work out of doors the year around. There are good schools and churches. Live stock has good range nearly all year. No costly barns are needed for winter housing. There is a long growing season—this means bigger and more profitable crops. You can raise and market some crop nearly every month in the year. There are good markets nearby. There is an abundant supply of good water. The rainfall is plentiful and evenly distributed.

Think what you're offered!

Low land values— Good water— Two crops a year— Convenient markets— Grazing for stock the year around—

Can you afford to stay where you are?

Just consider whether it's better to take advantage of the wonderful opportunities this territory now offers, or continue where you are, struggling along under adverse conditions, wasting your time and energy trying to make a high-priced farm which is "all worked out" pay.

Don't delay! Go Southwest! You won't make a mistake. Twice a month, Homeseekers' tickets are sold by the Cotton Belt at very low rates. Make a trip of investigation—it will be the best thing you ever did. Write for our descriptive literature—tells all about Arkansas and Texas—Let us help you to Success.

THURSDAY JAN. 23, 1908.

DR. W. J. BRYAN, the great self appointed regulator of the Universe, was at Frankfort, Tuesday, for the purpose of administering a dose of his favorite mixture to the "bolting" Democrats. But it failed to secure a vote for Mr. Beckham.

Four Score and Nine.

MR. GEO. M. FORTUNE is a hale and hearty old man. His mind is as clear as the noonday and his walk as steady as most men at twenty years younger than himself. He came into our office yesterday, with the remark, "I understand you have a petition for the pardon of Caleb Powers and I want to sign it." This he did with a firm hand and with the remark, "Yes sir, I am a lifelong Democrat of the old school, but I believe that man ought to be pardoned." Then he added, "Next Thursday, I will be eighty-nine years old and on that day, I will have been married fifty two years." Mr. Fortune reside with their son-in-law, Mr. J. N. Smith and are remarkably well preserved for their ages.

THE LEGISLATURE is doing practically nothing but wrangling over the election of a U. S. Senator. The Republicans are sitting squarely in one body for Gov. Bradley. The Democrats are divided to the extent that all but five are voting for Gov. Beckham, but the unfortunate part for him is that these five hold the balance of power. As we understand, on the grounds that Mr. Beckham is not really the choice of the Democrats of the State, but that his supposed nomination was secured by fraud. It is also claimed that he has made the interests of the party subservient to his personal interests. In these confusions these "bolters" seem to be supported by a large percentage of the Democratic voters. It is known that many who are voting for him are not doing so with their whole heart.

THE GOVERNOR AND LAW.

The violent outbreak of R. Y. Thomas, Jr., throws light on the situation in many counties. Mr. Thomas is an officer of the law, by oath required to bring criminals to justice, and to protect the humblest citizen in his rights of life, liberty and property.

Instead he publishes a letter which no man not insane from passion would ever sign. It is no manner reflects on the Governor, but it is the denunciation of Mr. Thomas, and lets the people understand why the night raiders may ride unmolested from county to county, with firebrands in their hands and murder in their hearts.

Gov. Willson is required by the people to see that the law is enforced. He was elected because it was believed he would bring lawbreakers to justice notwithstanding the obstacles imposed by officers like the Commonwealth's Attorney for the Seventh Judicial district.

This violence and vulgarity, this noisy feebleness, this appeal to the passions of the ignorant and vicious, coming from an officer of the State, should awaken the people to the problems connected with lawlessness in Kentucky.

It is not the first time the arm of the law has been paralyzed when it ought to strike. The people must devise some way to give effect to their own laws, even when resisted by influences that locally seem irresistible. The laws broken and defied are not county decrees, nor city ordinances; they are laws of Kentucky, and they should be strong enough to grind to powder any conspiracy that resists them.—Post.

Mrs. Sallie Bailey is ill with gripe, at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Eugene Bagby, near Hiseville.

Mrs. Dr. W. C. Smith has joined her husband here and they have taken rooms temporarily at the Murrell hotel.

The many friends of Mr. L. W. Gee, will be glad to know that he is out again, after a tussle with the gripe.

Mr. H. K. Wilborn and wife attended the burial of Mr. Wilborn's aunt, Mrs. Gentry, at Poplar Log, Tuesday.

Mr. Wood Davis has accepted a position with Mr. C. W. Henderson, and will take his position in the store Monday.

Mr. R. L. Hargrove of Louisville, spent from Saturday to Tuesday, with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Hargrove of Temple Hill.

Mr. Watt Shipley of Springfield, Ill., is on a visit to father, Mr. G. M. Shipley of Slick Rock and his brother, Mr. Dock Shipley of Hiseville.

Mr. Malcolm Taylor visited in the Cedar Grove neighborhood Saturday and Sunday and preached at Cedar Grove both days in Rev. Lewi's place.

Messrs John S. Welch and H. M. Snoddy, of the Railroad section, have entered the law department of the Bowling Green Business University.

Mrs. L. C. Maynard of Michigan, sustained a painful fracture of the hip by falling at the residence of her son-in-law, Judge S. E. Jones, a few days since.

Dr. U. W. McPherson of Sulphur Well, was a welcome visitor to our office Tuesday. The doctor has many friends in Glasgow, who are always glad to see him.

Dr. E. B. Atkinson of Cane Valley, Adair county, passed through here last week, on the way to the bedside of his mother, Mrs. W. M. Atkinson of Etowah, who has been quite ill.

Messrs. Travis Taylor of Morgantown, and W. I. Allison of Bowling Green, are here making a survey of the town preparatory to installing the Home Telephone Company's plant.

Mr. A. Laney and family have moved into the home he recently purchased of Mr. T. P. Dickinson. Mrs. Owsley, mother of Mrs. Laney, and Miss Jennie Owsley, will also occupy part of the house.

Mr. Ed N. Caldwell, of Glasgow is spending a few days in the city in the interest of the Northwestern Life Insurance Co., which is represented locally by Square E. H. Porter.—Park City Daily News.

Hon. W. F. Edmonds, Representative from Barren county, came down home yesterday, accompanied by his son, Rogers, on account of the very serious illness of his daughter Mrs. Ted Button, whose recovery is exceedingly doubtful. Mrs. Tom Mobley of Lebanon Junction, sister of Mrs. Button, also came in yesterday, to the bedside of her sister.

Hon. H. H. Denham, Representative in the Legislature from Monroe and Metcalfe counties, was here Saturday night on his way to Frankfort. He was accompanied by Drs. E. E. Palmore of Strode and G. W. Bushong of Tompkinsville. Mr. Denham has had a severe case of pneumonia and was taken to Frankfort just as soon as he was able, if not a little sooner. But the Senatorial situation demanded his presence and he took the risk.

It matters nothing to the liquor traffic whether Beckham goes to Washington or stays in Frankfort. He will merely transfer his personal support of the business from one city to another.—Louisville Herald.

"The Peaceful Army."

The following citizens of Barren and Hart counties, were designated as members of the "Peaceful Army": J. M. Redford, T. W. Burd, Will Locke, John Fisher, Henry Franklin, S. F. Crabtree, Conrad Hatcher, John Nunn, Ed Richardson, Eugene Richardson, Claud Morgan, Andy Lee, Baker Hatcher, Geo. Lafferty, Henry Moss, Lee Landrum, Harry Hatcher, Will Vaughn, Bob Richardson, Walker Malone, John Dunagan, O. P. Boyd, Tom Toms, Morris, Brooks, Dan Richardson, Booker Smith, Joy Curle, Arthur Curle, Claud Burd, Roger White, Hugh Crabtree, Joe Steen, Claud Russell, Bob Kinney, C. W. Smith, W. A. Ford, Glover Burd and German Burd.

The indictments charge specifically, that the defendants are guilty of "combining themselves together for the purpose of intimidating and disturbing F. R. Gordon, Walton Moss, Dan Van-cleve, S. C. Pemberton and other persons, then engaged in the business of purchasing loose tobacco, and demanding that Gordon should not receive any more tobacco than was already contracted for.

The trial came up Monday, but the jury was not completed until Tuesday.

The trial was a complete farce, as no one could be found who knew of anything wrong being done. The defendants were all tried under one warrant and were therefore dismissed.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS.

The past year (1907) has been the most successful year in our history, for which we are thankful for your liberal patronage.

For the present year we will be better equipped with fuller lines of the famous COLUMBIA, AMES, DELKER BROS. and BABCOCK BUGGIES, OLD HICKORY and TENNESSEE WAGONS, McCORMICK HARVESTING MACHINERY and DISC HARROWS, BUCKEYE and AVERY CULTIVATORS, OLIVER CHILLED PLOWS, AVERY DISC PLOWS, AMERICAN FENCE, EMPIRE CORN and WHEAT DRILLS, all of which we believe to be the best on the market, also ARMOUR'S, READ'S and OX FERTILIZERS, which are too well-known to need any comment.

We also carry a complete line of SHELF and HEAVY HARDWARE.

Again thanking you for past favors and soliciting a continuance of the same in the future, we are,

YOURS TRULY,

Barren County Grocery & Hardware Company.

Geo. Hazlip, a colored man, well known here, was found dead in his bed in Bowling Green, last Friday morning, probably caused by heart trouble.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

Berg was released and Newland was held to answer to the grand jury.

Meeting.
Mrs. Bebie Barnett, wife of Mr. R. A. Barnett, died at her home near Hiseville, Monday morning at an early hour of heart disease, at the age of about fifty years. She was taken ill about 3 o'clock and died before medical aid could reach her. She was a member of the Baptist church and is survived by her husband and four children. She was the sister of Messrs. Dan, S. G. and T. J. Hatcher, of Hiseville.

Mrs. Boles Dead.
Mrs. Ellen Boles, widow of the late Mr. Jim Boles, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Botta, in Louisville, at an early hour yesterday morning, after only a few days illness. She is survived by four children, Mrs. Lizzie Botta of Louisville, and Mrs. Addie Belle McQuown and Messrs. John H. Boles and Sam Boles of this place. Mrs. Boles was a member of the Christian church and had the confidence and esteem of all her acquaintances. She had a large circle of friends in Barren county, who will learn with regret of her death. The remains arrived at this place last night for burial at the Glasgow cemetery today.

Last Friday at J. T. Sherley's stable a difficulty arose between two brothers, Ambros and Wm. Goodhue, which ended in the latter assaulting his brother with a singletree, inflicting a serious scalp wound. Both were arrested and arraigned before Judge Allen. Ambros was dismissed and Wm. was remanded to jail to await an examining trial Tuesday, at which time he was held over under a bond of $750, failing to give which he was remanded to jail. It develops that the wound of Ambros Goodhue is very serious, and he may die.

Closed Up.
The general merchandise store of Mr. R. Y. Austin at Austin, in the southern part of the county, was closed Monday by the Sheriff, on account of action taken by some of Mr. Austin's creditors. It will be remembered that Mr. Austin's furniture and undertaker establishment was burned recently. Mr. Austin claims that this gave his creditors a scare, and that the action just taken is not justified by the conditions. He says that he has a stock of goods worth $4,000 or $5,000, besides a lot of land, and that he does not owe more than $1,600. He says therefore that he will settle the matter without being either closed out or thrown into bankruptcy. We trust that this is correct at Mr. Austin is a clever gentleman, and his friends will be glad to learn that he is on his feet again.

A Rare Opportunity.
Of all the good things that have been started in Glasgow recently, the organization of a "Choral Union" is one of the very best. If the musical talent of Glasgow and Barren county will recognize at once the great benefit they can derive from this work, and all join in at the beginning of this movement, there will be such an awakening in the musical circle of this community as was never thought of before.

The officers at the head of this "Union" are capable and tireless workers and we are sure this will be a great success. They were very fortunate in securing Miss Fannie Bohannon as the directress of the Club. She is an experienced Vocal teacher and Chorus director. If you have a voice and live in reach of Glasgow you should join this Club at once. They meet every Friday evening promptly at 7 o'clock at Liberty College Chapel, and if you are not already a member you are missing a rare opportunity for the study of "Handel's Immortal Messiah." Avail yourself at once of this great opportunity of the cultivation of your voice. Attend the meeting tomorrow—Friday night.

Miss Martha Scrimager, died one day last week, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arnold, near Coral Hill, at the age of about sixty three years. Her death was very sudden, as a result of heart trouble. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Sam Scrimager, the well-known horse jockey of Slick Rock. Miss Scrimager's death is a sad blow to the young folks, as she was quite famous as a fortune teller.

Mrs. Elizabeth, Underwood, widow of the late Eave Underwood, died at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Dock Slaughter in the Barrens, last Friday, at the age of eighty two. She is survived by five children, Messrs. Tom D. Underwood of Ardmore Okla., Joe Underwood of Texas, Al. Underwood Mrs. Will Church and Mrs. Dock Slaughter of this county. Mrs. Underwood was an excellent Christian lady, and her passing away, is sincerely mourned by a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. Nancy Gentry, died at the home of her son, Mr. Wilborn Gentry, near Temple Hill, Sunday night, at the age of eighty years. She was the widow of the late James Gentry, known to his friends as "Big Jim Gentry," who kept a mill on Skaggs creek. Mrs. Gentry is survived by two children, Mr. Wilborn Gentry, with whom she lived and Mrs. W. H. Word of near Oil City. She also leaves two brothers, Mr. W. H. Wilborn of Nobob, and Mr. Geo. R. Wilborn of Mt. Hermon. She was a member of the Baptist church and was a woman of the highest repute. Funeral services were held at Poplar Log Tuesday, by Rev. J. R. Marrs, after which the remains were laid to rest in that large "City of the dead."

So many big hunting stories have been published recently that our friend and subscriber Mr. C. W. Parker, at Bon Ayr, became interested and one morning last week started out to break the record. Near his home he got on the track of a fox and soon ran him to earth. He procured a pick and soon had the ground cleared away so he could see the object of his search, a large grey fox. After a "scrap" with his foxship, in which the animal was slain, Mr. Parker turned to go away when a deep growl from the hole attracted his attention. An investigation revealed a large fat opossum, which was also captured. Mr. Parker does not know whether the fox and opossum were living together permanently or only visiting each other. At any rate they were both in the same den, in the same bed and seemed to be agreeing.

Young Wife Tired Of Life

(Park City News)
Mrs. Sallie Owens, aged 16 years, who resides at Horse, Shoe, Allen county, committed suicide early this morning. Her husband had gone out to the barn to feed his stock as usual, leaving his wife in the house alone, and when he finished feeding and returned to the house found his young wife lying on the floor with blood streaming from her body and a double barrel shotgun by her side. The deceased is the daughter of Mr. John Robert Rush, a prominent and well-known farmer, who resides near Mr. Hamp Skiles in the Piano vicinity. She eloped with Mr. Owens to Tennessee about two months ago and was married without the consent of her parents. This has burdened her mind ever since and is given as the cause of the rash act. Mr. Owens is a well-to-do young farmer of Horse Shoe.

To Build Factory.

Munfordville, Ky., January 20.—The members of the American Society of Equity of the district composed of the counties of Barren, Hart and Metcalfe are organizing a company for the purpose of manufacturing pooled tobacco. WERE HUMBLING THE HORSE
That Was Why Noble Quadruped Was Hitched to Truck With Two Mules.

The other day a big furniture van moved slowly along a boulevard. On one side was painted the latest battle ship; on the other was a lightning express train, gorgeously colored. The team consisted of two mules and one fine fat horse with a sweeping tail. They were harnessed abreast, the horse in the middle. The sight was too much for a Southern "gemmen." Rushing out into the street, he called a halt, and asked the two husky negroes in command: "What do you mean by harnessing that horse between two ordinary mules?" The driver replied, grinning: "Cause 'e ain' been havin' self; we's humaniatin' him." "What? Oh, humilitating him." "Yas, sah; dat's it; 'e got ter be humbled."

LADY IN THE MOON.

An amateur astronomer writes of the "lady in the moon": "It is a very beautiful face seen in profile and, uplifted, as though in proud disdain of things terrestrial. The curve of the throat is exquisite and, indeed, the entire outline is marvelously lifelike. The moon lady may best be observed, say, through a small opera glass when our satellite is at half. At that time the tip of the chin about touches the terminator, that is, the dividing line between the light and dark portions of the lunar surface. Most people can recognize the man in the moon; well, the hair of the 'lady'—in which I can always fancy I see a spray of orange blossom—forms the man's left eye, the nose and mouth his nose, and the chin and throat the 'man's' mouth."

HAD CANCELED DEST.

A Richmond lawyer was consulted not long since by a colored man who complained that another negro owed him three dollars, a debt which he absolutely refused to discharge. The creditor had dunned and dunned him, but all to no purpose. He had finally come to the lawyer in the hope that he could give him some good advice. "What reason does he give for refusing to pay you?" asked the legal man. "Why, boss," said the darkey, "he said he done owed me dat money for so long dat de intermed had et it all up, an' he didn't owe me a cent."

ORCHID HUNTERS' PERILS.

Orchid hunters in New Guinea often face death searching for these rare plants. One agent found a magnificent collection of orchids growing in a native burying ground among exposed bones and skulls. When the plants were removed some of the skulls were removed with them. Yet another collector was known to wade up to his waist in mud among mosquitoes for two weeks, seeking a single rare specimen.

JUDGE'S ADVICE.

"Is this your first law case?" asked Mr. Justice Bigham of a defendant in a civil action at the Guilford Assizes recently. "It is, my lord," replied the litigant. "Then let it be your last," drily observed his lordship. Mr. Justice Bigham has been a judge since 1897, and before that had a large practice as a leader of the Northern circuit. —Pearson's Weekly.

WORSE YET.

"People never give me credit for any serious thoughts," complained Lowe Comedy. "I can't imagine anything worse than to have folks laugh at you when you really mean to be serious."
"You don't say?" replied Hi Tragedy. "I should think you'd find it worse to have folks laugh at you when you mean to be funny."

ELY'S CREAM BALM has been tried and not found wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. It has won a place in the family medicine chest among the reliable household remedies, where it is kept at hand for use in treating cold in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or sniffing. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bed case of catarrh.

A Reliable Remedy FOR CATARRH
Ely's Cream Balm
It quickly absorbs. Gives Relief at Once. It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane suffering from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Sense of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts. at Druggists or by mail. Liquid Cream Balm for use in stomachs 75 cts. Ely Brothers, 54 Warren Street, New York.

Hazed To Death.

As the result of alleged barbarous hazing, to which he was subjected while a student at Rose Polytechnic Institute in 1906, William George Keiper, a Louisville athlete, died in San Antonio, Tex., yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. It is alleged by the boy's relatives that, while he was a freshman at the Indiana college, he was attacked in his room, carried to a lonely cemetery at the edge of the city, tied to a tombstone and left there from midnight to 6 o'clock the next morning. The exposure is said to have resulted directly in his death.

One dairyman thinks that but few cows are "born kickers." Ten chances to one when a cow kicks there is some good cause for her nervousness. It may be that her udder is inflamed and swollen, or, for some unaccountable reason, her teats may be tender and easily irritated. Of course there is a possibility that the milker's finger nails are too long and dig into her teats, thereby giving the cows pain and irritation. Then, too, it may be that the milker, through abusive treatment, has developed a fear and nervousness which call forth kicking.

ITCHING HUMOR ON LITTLE BOY

His Hands were a Solid Mass, and Disease Spread All Over His Body —In Four Days the Child was Entirely Cured—Mother Strongly

RECOMMENDS CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"One day we noticed that our little boy was all broken out with itching sores. We first noticed it on his little hands. His hands were not as hot as when we didn't think anything serious would result. But the next day we heard of the Cuticura Remedies being so good for itching sores, etc., that I thought I would get them. By this time the disease had spread all over his body and his hands were nothing but a solid mass of this itching disease. We went to the drug store and purchased a box of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment, and that night I stripped my little boy and took the Cuticura Soap and lukewarm water and washed him well. Then I dried him with a soft bath towel, and took the Cuticura Ointment and rubbed him thoroughly with it. I did this every evening before I put him to bed and in three or four nights he was entirely cured. You have my permission to publish this because anybody who suffered as my baby did ought to know of the Cuticura Remedies. I will surely and gladly recommend the Cuticura Remedies for they are a godsend to all suffering with skin diseases. Mr. Frank Donahue, 208 Fremont St., Kokomo, Ind., Sept. 16, 1907."

ALL TRACED TO WHISKEY.

Wm. Goodhue who had his examining trial before Judge J. F. Allen Tuesday and in default of bail was remanded to jail, to await the action of March term grand jury, on a charge of maliciously assaulting his brother, Ambrose Goodhue, Friday last, in Sherley's Livery Stable with a singletree, with intent to kill. Both parties were believed to be drinking, and the wounded man's condition is yet thought to be serious.

The defendant has been before the Court before and the Judge thought this an opportune time to impress upon the defendant and some of his audience the evils of intemperance or some of the fruits as here shown in this case, that whiskey was directly or indirectly the cause of this trouble, but this does not excuse the defendant, who must suffer.

Judge Allen said, "Do you realize the seriousness of this charge against you? See what whiskey has done. I would be glad I could in some manner say something that might arouse or open the eyes of some of these poor unfortunate inebriates, if any present; could they but know that near nine-tenths of similar cases like this are traced to whiskey. It is not the pleasure of this court to see you in this condition, indeed you have my sympathy. Gentlemen whatever objection you may have to whiskey on a moral or religious ground, there is from the standpoint of sheer patriotism enough evidence against it to condemn it to everlasting oblivion. Patriotism concerns itself with but one thing, the welfare of the people, the good of the citizen and the community. We find these facts about whiskey and those that use it, they ponder to the lowest depth in society, it aids and abets every public vice, it is an incentive to crime, it robs the best citizens of self respect, it is a creator of poverty, it makes men notorious law breakers, it destroys the moral senses of our domestic happiness and our home. These evidences need no further proof and these truths should be sounded deep into the ears of every toper and whiskey user until they shall heed. These and many other reasons might be given against those using the accursed stuff, but I deem these sufficient. Being an official and having to deal with so many of these poor unfortunate victims of drink and hearing their many appeals and struggles for a better life, do you wonder at this, my stand, and appeal in behalf of these unfortunates and against this accursed stuff that is bringing so much misery and ruin to our fellowmen and our dear homes."

Short Men, Arise Ye.

Rastus Moore, a colored gentleman well known in the political walks of life in the home of Mr. Fairbanks, has brought to an issue a question that has agitated all the ages, and whose origin is lost in the shades of antiquity. It is this: Has a short man any rights that a tall man is bound to respect?

We desire here and now to announce ourselves once and for all as a knight of the men of cut-off height. We declare that tall men are bound to respect all the rights of short men, and if they don't they must be taught a lesson. It is high time that these long, gawky, spindle-shanked fellows should be brought up with a sound thrashing.

What's wrong with being a short man? Napoleon was a mere runt. Did he amount to anything? Roosevelt is not embarrassed by his extreme height, is he? He has done some things, hasn't he? Alexander and Grant and Caesar and Victor Hugo and Zola and others whom we could easily mention were not noted for their towering forms. Where did this idea come from, anyway, that a man has to be six-foot or more in order to get a job under this Government? Whose Government is this? Do Cy Solloway and Ollie James own the whole country? Why, they won't even let you fight for your country unless you are too long for an ordinary bed.

Women are more discriminating. The taller they are the shorter the man they want for a husband. Women know what's what by intuition. It would be a great thing for this country in a good many ways if the Government paid more attention to the women. Short men are better natured, more accommodating, more optimistic than tall men, and that's just the reason they are imposed upon. It's time to put a stop to it. Let the short men get together and organize. Now's the time for action. Now's the time for work.—Washington Times.

Rioh Indian Family.

The Berryhill family is one of the largest in the Creek nation. There are more than seven members of its various branches. This family draws more money for oil royalties than any other in Oklahoma, says a Muskogee letter to the St. Louis Republic.

They are mixed blood Creeks, some of them being almost white—cultured and refined citizens. Nearly every one of the family secured allotments in that section of the Creek nation in which was later developed the Glenn oil pool, the greatest oil pool in the world.

As a result of the oil wells that have already been drilled on Berryhill allotments the family now draws from $15,000 to $20,000 each month. Some individual members of this family have the richest producing allotments in the oil field. One draws $3,000 a month royalty and another $2,000. There are many members of the family whose allotments have not yet been drilled, and there are others whose allotments are outside of the present development, but they are likely to be brought in almost any time.

Tobe Berryhill is an Indian preacher and was one of the men most active in the movement to have the Indians sell their allotments and go to Old Mexico, take up a land grant there and live according to their old customs. There has not been much heard about going to Mexico since the Berryhills commenced to draw big royalties from their allotments.

SHAKE IN A BOTTLE.

Now is the time when the doctor gets busy, and the patent medicine manufacturers reap the harvest, unless great care is taken to dress warmly and keep the feet dry. This is the advice of an old eminent authority, who says that Rheumatism and Kidney trouble weather is here, and also tells what to do in case of an attack.

Get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Mix by shaking in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

Just try this simple home made mixture at the first sign of Rheumatism, or if your back aches or you feel that the kidneys are not acting just right. This is said to be a splendid kidney regulator, and almost certain remedy for all forms of Rheumatism, which is caused by uric acid in the blood, which the kidneys fail to filter out. Any one can easily prepare this at home and at small cost.

Druggists in this town and vicinity, when shown the prescription, stated that they can either supply these ingredients, or, if our readers prefer, they will compound the mixture for them.

Hiccoughing can be stopped by sneezing. A physician says he has successfully cured a case of persistent hiccough by tickling the patient's nose. It is not necessary that the stimulus applied to the nose be followed by sneezing, the application of a mild irritant to the nasal mucous membrane being sufficient to divert the nervous energy into other channels.

MANY SUFFERERS from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain-relieving Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray is a remedy that relieves at once. All druggists, 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

PAPA'S DARLING.

INCUBATING ALLIGATORS.

Quincy, Ill. has achieved a good deal of fame as a manufacturer of incubators. The chicken incubator is the oldest of all, and from the first invention there followed the manufacture of instruments to hatch out birds of every description.

But the strangest incubator of all is the alligator incubator, says the Clinton, Ia., Herald. The industry of alligator raising has grown to a science within the last few years, and one or two very extensive farms are being operated in the south.

The most successful of these is that of the Arkansas alligator farm near Hot Spring, Ark., which raises the animals for the market on a large scale. About 1,500 young alligators are raised each year, and from this supply the menageries zoos and of the country are stocked.

The chief profit from the business arises from the sales of the young alligators for show purposes and for pets, and not as usually supposed, from the sale of their skins for ornamental leather work.

With the saurians raised in such large numbers every year advanced methods of incubation had to be invented, and as in the poultry business the invention was not long delayed. As the incubator took the place of the motherly hen, so the artificial hatcher superseded the female alligator as a mother of her young.

When the need of some expeditious method of hatching alligators began to become urgent an incubator was made articularly for raising the brood of the inhabitants of the southern bayous. The machine was some-what larger than the ordinary chicken hatchery.

The eggs are placed in the trays as in any incubator and when the young are hatched the wiggling mass presents a curious sight. The eggs are covered with straw which is moistened every day. The temperature is maintained at 80 degrees until the eggs are hatched.

The little animals are nursed in the brooder for several days before being turned out into the babies' enclosure. It is claimed by the operators of the farms that the introduction of artificial methods has appreciably reduced all uncertainty in hatching. The percentage of eggs which fail to incubate is very small, and the eggs are worth $5 a dozen.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household care or in social duties and those who are seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating medicine. It is a most reliable and safe remedy for all the ailments which attend the menstrual period, such as irregularity, pain, and excessive flow. It is a most reliable and safe remedy for all the ailments which attend the menstrual period, such as irregularity, pain, and excessive flow. It is a most reliable and safe remedy for all the ailments which attend the menstrual period, such as irregularity, pain, and excessive flow.

$200,000 For Berea College.

Andrew Carnegie has announced that he would give $200,000 to Berea College, at Berea, Ohio, subject to the condition that the college raise a like amount to match the sum that President William Howard Taft deems necessary for the college to carry on its work.

Under the new legislation passed a law prohibiting any school from admitting both white and black students, Berea received a part of its support from persons whose interest was largely in the negro population.

After that it was decided to set aside from the endowment fund and fixed properties of the college $200,000; the income of which was to be used for the benefit of the negroes, and to obtain for them, as soon as possible, the establishment of a good school in Kentucky after the type of Hampton Institute. Of this plan President Roosevelt wrote recently:

"The emergency that comes to Berea College from the necessity of a separate provision for colored students is an unusual one, and you are meeting it with wisdom and courage. I earnestly hope it will not retard the important and earnest work you have in mind."

"I hope the adjustment fund you require will be secured promptly, for delay will not be only disheartening, but of real and serious damage."

Queer Lodging Places.

It is surprising to strangers to find Egyptian families occupying some of the tombs which have been excavated and abandoned. It seem uncanny to see babies playing cheerfully about the doors of the tomb houses and to watch chickens running in and out as they do at the mud dwellings. When questioned about the tombs a dragoon said that those occupied as homes had been tombs of ordinary citizens and were of no value as show places for tourists. As some of them have several rooms extending into the rock, and as they are cool in the hottest of summer and warm in the cool days of winter, they are altogether as homes. The Egyptians do not share the horror of dead bodies felt by Europeans. Children run about with pieces of mummies and if they cannot dispose of them to tourists they play with them. A mummified foot or hand is so common in Luxor that one may be purchased for a few cents.—Leslie's Weekly.

There is no doubt that poultry is a paying crop on the farm.

A French woman whose husband was in hiding from the authorities inadvertently betrayed his whereabouts to a police spy. As a result the man was taken and received a term of imprisonment. So much did she take to heart this misfortune, brought about by her gossip, that she resolved to remain mute to the end of her life.

CUTICURA CURED MOTHER AND BABY

Southern Woman Suffered With Itching, Burning Rash—Drove Her Nearly Crazy—Her Baby Had Sore on Neck, and Two Other Babies Had Skin Troubles—Calls

CUTICURA A STAND-BY THAT NEVER FAILS HER

"I just can't say enough for the Cuticura Remedies. I can't find words big enough to express my thanks to God for bestowing of the wonderful remedies. My baby had a running sore on his neck and nothing that I did for it took effect until I used Cuticura. My face was nearly full of itches or some similar skin disease. It would itch and after scratching it burned so that I could hardly stand it. Two ointments of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment cured me. Two years after it broke out on my hands and wrist. I cured it for a while, but it came again in the summer. Sometimes I would go nearly crazy for it itched so badly. I used ten dollars worth of so-called blood medicines which did no good at all, then I went back to my old stand-by that had never failed me. One set of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent did the work. One set also cured my uncle's baby whose head was a case of sores, and I know of another woman's baby who was in the same fix and nothing else did any good. I speak a word of praise for Cuticura whenever I see a case that needs it. Mrs. Lilla Wilshire, 770 Riverside St., Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 15, 1907."

CUTICURA OINTMENT

The World's Greatest Skin Cure and Purest and Sweetest of Remedies. Cuticura Ointment is one of the most successful remedies for itching, disfiguring eruptions of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, ever compounded. In proof of which a single anointing with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed by mild doses of Cuticura Pills, is often sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing forms of itching, burning, and scaly eruptions, common in the face, and inflammations, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure when all else fails. Te Successful Husband Finds

Mere man stands ever open-mouthed before the mystery of woman's dress. He may wonder, but when he has learned wisdom he wonders in silence. Now and again a rash male makes a remark upon this subject, and is duly immolated.

Since Eve first assured the astonished Adam that all was well and simply with coquettish tears on his shameful lack of sympathy, the matter has always been treated in the same old way. The hesitating husband has learned to lie with commendable promptitude when consulted with regard to a new confection or a fresh fancy.

He has even admired styles so widely diverse as the pull-back skirt and the crinoline as the pull-back skirt and the chastened mirth the Sandow exercises that the pocket placed somewhere near the right heel was wont to produce; he meekly accepted the message that there were to be no pockets at all for a time, and suavely offered the hospitality of his own to replace the lack.

He knows his place and is perforce an admirer of the new as much as any Athenian in olden days. Now he is gratified with the near-Empire effects which supposedly echo the classic Greek. His not to criticize. His not to suggest that a revived Athenian dame would never recognize them. His but to admire and compliment and pay the bill.—Philadelphia Record.

Harvester Trust Indicted.

The Franklin county grand jury returned an indictment, January 24, at Frankfort, against the International Harvester Company, of Milwaukee, charging that said company had combined with the McCormick, Champion, Deering and Osborne companies to regulate and control the prices on mowers, reapers, binders and other harvesting machinery. The fine for such an offense under the Kentucky anti-trust statute is from $1,000 to $5,000 for each offense.

Local Option Election Wanted by

Liquor Men of Bowling Green

A Special from Bowling Green dated January 23, says: Reports were telephoned in from the county today that the liquor men are circulating a petition asking for a vote to be taken on local option in the county as a whole. A number of temperance people signed the petitions under the impression that they were being circulated by the temperance people, are hustling to get their names off. The temperance people do not want a vote in the county at this stage of the game, and the liquor people are trying to force an election in the hope that if the country as a whole should go "wet" the town would also be "wet."

The city of Bowling Green was voted "dry" at a recent local option election, and it is now claimed that the liquor interests are anxious to have the county vote as a unit with a view of carrying the election and restoring whiskey in Bowling Green.

Senator Brown, of Gallatin, introduced the most unusual bill of the session Jan. 23. It provides that no one shall grow a crop of tobacco in 1908 without first securing a license to do so from the County Clerk, and the license fee to be $50 per acre for each acre grown. If this bill passes, it will absolutely insure that no tobacco will be grown this year.

When You Take Cold

One way is to pay no attention to it; at least not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

Mrs. R. H. Nunn, wife of the Hiseville banker, is quite ill.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Julius Goff of Hiseville, are seriously ill.

Mrs. Nat Nickols is ill with pneumonia at her home at Coral Hill.

Miss Hatlie Lewis of Columbia, is visiting the family of Mr. S. Goodman.

Master Herbert Taylor who has been sick since last Friday has about recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Houck, are rejoicing over the arrival of an eleven pound ton.

Mr. Harry Holman of Corbin, Ky., is here on a visit to his father, Mr. J. B. Holman.

Mrs. Mollie Davidson of Glasgow is visiting her sister Mrs. A. Watkins, of Coral Hill.

Miss Henrietta Jones spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. W. M. White at Cave City.

Mrs. Sallie Bent of St. Louis, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. F. Taylor, at this place.

Mr. J. W. Barton, one of the best citizens of the Wisdom section, gave us a pleasant call Monday.

Mr. Arthur Slaughter wife and baby of Bowling Green are visiting his aunt Mrs. Frank Watkins of Coral Hill.

Mr. Zack Nickols of Flippin, passed through here Thursday, on his way from Cincinnati, where he had been on business.

Mr. Chester Tinsley of Nashville, is here on a visit to his grandfather, Dr. L. D. Satterfield and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. J. W. Brazelton of Birmingham, Ala., has returned to her home after a visit to her father, Mr. J. B. Holman, at this place.

Mrs. W. C. Richards is laid up with the grippe. Mr. Lil. Flowers and daughter, Miss Ella, are also laid up with the grippe.

Mr. S. B. Davis, the bustling banker of Cave City, was in our midst Monday. Mr. Davis is always a welcome visitor to Glasgow.

Mr. C. C. Carden who has been in Dawson, Ga., for sometime, has joined his family here, and may again locate in Glasgow. He is a good citizen and would be a valuable addition to the town.

Mr. M. M. Redding left yesterday for a visit to Danville and other points in the Blue Grass section. He will be gone about ten days. Mr. Redding seems to have a preference for Danville.

Mr. J. S. Boyter formerly of the Eighty Eight section, but who has been living in Cincinnati for quite a number of years, has moved with his family, back to Eighty Eight, where they will make their home.

Mr. A. B. Comer, who left this place for Nashville, Tenn., about a month ago, located with his family at Franklin, Ky., where they will spend the winter, and from which it is understood Mr. Comer will travel.

Doctors Geo. W. Bushong of Tompkinsville, and E. E. Palmore of Strode, passed through here last week on their way back from Frankfort, where they had been to accompany Hon. H. H. Denham, Representative from Metcalfe and Monroe, who was just improving from a severe case of pneumonia. Mr. Denham was fast recovering, and the further presence of the doctors was not necessary.

THURSDAY JAN. 30, 1908.

ONE more Democratic Representative has deserted Beckham, and several more want to. Beckham is a goner.

As might be expected, with the Senatorial fight on hand, the Legislature is doing next to nothing, and the prospect is flattering for a continuation of the same rapid rate.

THE SENATE has passed an act exempting fifth and sixth class towns from registration. The House should adopt this bill, and thereby remove an unnecessary law, which is only an annoyance, without doing either party any good.

COL. BRYAN has come, preached to, prayed for, and probably cursed at, the Legislature and is "off again, on again and gone again," leaving Beckham as far from Washington and as close to Political Oblivion as ever he'd been before.—Central City Republican.

MISS GLADYS VANDERBILT of New York, was married Monday to Count Lasalo Jenö Maria Henrik Simon Saechenyi, a young Hungarian nobleman. How much better than to have married a plain American, and to think too, he only cost $12,000,000 to $15,000,000.

THE SENATORIAL dead-lock still exists at Frankfort. Beckham is as far from election as ever and as close he is likely to get. The Republicans are standing solidly by Gov. Bradley, and it now looks as if it will be Bradley or no election this session—most likely the latter result.

In the appointment of Messrs. G. Bruce Taylor of Metcalfe county and I. G. Mason of Logan county, as members of the State Board of Equalization, Governor Wilson made no mistake. It secures two able and safe representatives for this part of the State on that important board.

PREPARATIONS are being made by the Department of Justice, to bring suit in the United States court against the American Tobacco Co., under the Sherman Anti-Trust act, to forbid the company doing Inter-State business, on the grounds that it is an organization in restraint of trade. This should be done, and we hope the effort may be successful, and that the Trust—for such it is—may be dissolved. We have no sort of sympathy with the Tobacco Trust, and we believe it has been guilty of gross violations of law, and the way to fight it with the law. If the law is not sufficient, then pass one that is, but by all means fight it like men—not as outlaws. Bob Thomas of the Seventh district had better be bringing suit against the Trust in the State courts, rather than encouraging his friends to burn their neighbors' property, shoot at women and whip and kill men. It would be much better for a sworn officer of the law to try, at least, to execute the law rather than encourage men to violate it. If the laws in Kentucky are not sufficient, it is somebody's fault that they are not.

Barren County Board of Supervisors consisting of Messrs T. S. Puckett, I. N. Chynoweth, J. C. Greer, Tobe Dickey and J. H. Boles, are now considering the taxable interests of the county. They will complete their work today.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Oliver of Avard, Okla., came in last week, to be with their daughter, Mrs. J. P. Wilkinson of Temple Hill, who is quite ill. They will also visit their son, Mr. W. J. Oliver at this place before returning to Oklahoma.

Mr. L. C. Harvey of Indianapolis, called on us Monday on his way home after visiting his relatives and friends in the Summer Shade country. Mr. Harvey is prospering in his Hoosier home, and he tells us that Mr. Ben Pedigo, formerly of this and the Summer Shade sections, who has been in Indianapolis for a few years, is doing remarkably well. He is employed by a very large mercantile firm, and has advanced from cash boy to be second only to the head of the business, with several hundred salesmen under him. We are always glad to note the progress of deserving young men, such as Mr. Pedigo has proven himself to be. Mr. Harvey himself has a very responsible position with another concern, and is making good with his employers.

The "Panic" Vanishing.

Speaking of the improved conditions, financially, the Evening Post of Monday, says:

The bank statement Saturday again showed a large increase in deposits. The deposits last week increased $36,779,000, or more than six million daily.

The loans increased, but only $8,920,000. The surplus in excess of the 25 per cent. reserve is now 37 million, against a deficit in December of over 50 million. Another feature to note is that the deposits now nearly equal the loans; 1,127 million deposits against 1,135 loans. For a number months the excess of loans over deposits has been noticeable, and was one of the danger signals which Wall Street stupidly ignored.

"One result of the improved condition in the money market is that prime mercantile paper, which was from 10 to 12 per cent. last month, is now from 5 1/2 to 6 1/2. Money could be had Saturday for 90 days or 6 months at 4 1/2 which in December commanded from 8 to 10 per cent.

The most distinctive feature of the panic of 1907 was the rapid recovery; the wonderful rebound. Charge it to Roosevelt."

The country is recovering as rapidly as it would be reasonable to hope, and yet the progress upward is always much slower that downward. A man can be disabled, or become ill very quickly, and yet under the most favorable conditions his recovery is much slower. So it is with the country. A scare will drive money into its hiding places with a bound, and it comes out very cautiously. But business conditions are fast assuming the normal and we will soon be all right again. The lot is that there was no good reason for the scare anyway.

Chism-Trevitt.

Falls City (Neb.) Tribune.

S. H. Chism and Miss Hattie Trevitt of Carrollton, Mo., were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents on Thursday January 2, 1908. Only a few of the bride's friends were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Chism in early childhood were schoolmates in Kentucky, later Mrs. Chism moved from her native State to Missouri, with her parents in 1892. Several years elapsed between the time of their school days and that of their courtship. Only a few years since the happy couple chanced to meet when back on a visit to old Kentucky, then cupid began its work which terminated in the marriage.

The bride is a lady of winning disposition and possesses that appearance which is sure to win many friends where ever she may go.

The groom is one of Stella's most prosperous young men and is a leading druggist.

The young couple left immediately over the Wabash for Kansas City and other points before returning to Stella where they will make their home.

S. H. Chism formerly lived in Monroe county and taught a number of schools in Monroe and Barren counties.

Congressmen Unable To Agree.

"It is now considered an assured fact that the four Republican Congressmen from Kentucky will never agree as to whom should be named as collector and that for that reason it is also assured that President Roosevelt will name the appointee within the next week. It is also a well known fact that had Congressman A. D. James endorsed a man in favor with President Roosevelt he would have been appointed. Many are of the opinion that William Henry Jones, of Glasgow, could have got the place had he been endorsed by Congressman James, but there seems to be a breach between the two aspiring politicians from the Third district. Congressman James lost his grip when he endorsed Dr. Turner, of Bowling Green, who was not at all acceptable to the President.—Monday's Courier-Journal."

W. A. Eubank informs us that from July 1, 1907, to Jan. 1, 1908, his wife sold milk and butter to the amount of $42.75. This was from one cow after supplying six persons and two cats with all they wanted.—Edmonton News.

The cow mentioned above as making such a fine showing is a Glasgow cow and was purchased by Mr. Eubank of Mr. C. M. Foster last March.

Mrs. Thomas Keeton died at the home of her husband near Dry Hollow, last Wednesday of pneumonia. She is survived by her husband and two children. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lobden, and was said to have been a highly respected lady, liked by all her acquaintances.

In New Quarters
The Glasgow Camp of Modern Woodmen will hold their first meeting to-night in their new quarters over Clem Winn's grocery store. All members are urged to be present as officers for this year will be installed, other important work.

The Glasgow Tribe of Redmen will also meet in the same rooms.

New Store.
I have just opened a new Grocery store adjoining the Cooksey Hotel, where the Reynolds carding factory formerly stood, where I propose to sell all kinds of groceries at the very lowest possible figures. Please give me a trial, and I will convince you that I mean what I say. W. B. Frazier.

Mrs. James Bunch died at the home of her husband near Coral Hill, Saturday night, of pneumonia. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. James Taylor of Coral Hill. She was a sister of Mrs. J. F. Harper, near town. The remains were brought to this place for burial Monday.

James Young Dead.
Mr. James Young died at the home of his father, Dr. C. H. O. Young at Filippin, Monday, at the age of about twenty-nine years, after a lingering illness. Something like a month since Mr. Young was brought from the Lakeland asylum and taken home in a hopeless condition, since which time he has grown gradually worse. The interment took place in the cemetery at Filippin.

Sherley Hotel.
I have moved from the New Enterprise hotel, into the large brick building on Main street, formerly known as the Long House, and have fitted up the same for a First Class Hotel. The building has been completely overhauled, painted, papered and renovated from top to bottom. I have it beautifully furnished and with electric lights in every room. I am now better than ever prepared to give my friends First Class accommodations. Give me a trial. Samuel Sherley, Prop.

Mrs. Ted Button Dead

Mrs. Ted Button wife of our popular Deputy Sheriff, died at the home of her husband on Columbia Avenue yesterday morning, after a painful illness of inflammation of the bowels. She was a daughter of Hon. Frank Edmunds, the Representative from Barren county in the Legislature. She is survived by her husband and one five year old son, Jack. She was a member of the Christian church and a most lovable lady. She was universally popular and her death has cast a gloom over the entire town. Her stricken relatives have the profound sympathy of all. Funeral services will be held at the residence to-day at one o'clock, after which the remains will be interred in the Glasgow cemetery.

Minister Called.

Elder O. W. Darnold of Lexington, Ky., has been called to the ministry of the Christian church at this place, and has accepted the call. He will begin his work next Sunday, when he will preach both morning and evening. Mr. Darnold preached two excellent sermons here on the 19th of the present month, and to say that everybody was delighted with his sermons would not be an exaggeration. He is a young man of great promise, and confident hopes are entertained that he will be a valuable addition to the religious life of Glasgow and surrounding country.

Mr. Jack Trigg, Dead.

Mrs. Fannie Trigg received a telegram here Monday, announcing that her son, Jack Trigg, had just died at Fresno, California, with pneumonia. Mr. Trigg left here about a year ago, since which time he had been railroad in California. He was a brother of Deputy Marshal Thos. Trigg of this place, and was twenty six years old. The remains will be shipped to this place for burial.

Postmaster J. F. Taylor desires to call attention to the practice of some patrons of rural delivery of placing loose coins in their boxes each time they desire to dispatch letters instead of supplying themselves with postage in advance of their needs.

This practice imposes undue hardship on rural carriers in removing loose coins from boxes and delays them on the service of their routes.

The postmaster, therefore, urgently requests that patrons of rural delivery provide themselves and keep on hand a supply of stamps consistent with and in advance of their needs. It is also very desirable that rural patrons place in their mail boxes small detachable cups of wood or tin in which to place coins, when necessary, in purchasing supplies of stamps.

Fiscal Court Proceedings.

The Fiscal Court of Barren county met here Monday.

Mr. Geo. T. Parrish was re-elected Road Supervisor for Barren county at the same salary, $900 per annum.

A committee consisting of Esquires Fisher, Ellis and Morris, were appointed to investigate the advisability of building a bridge over Skaggs creek at Matthews' Mill.

A petition was also filed asking for the building of a bridge over Barren river at Port Oliver, the expense to be born jointly by Barren and Allen counties. No action was taken on this last petition, but if we are correctly informed, the bridge is badly needed.

An order was made for the erection of two toilets in the courthouse, one for men in the room under the Sheriff's office and one for women up stairs.

Hagan-Jordan.

Mr. W. J. Hagan of Fountain Run and Miss Lena Maye Jordan, daughter of Dr. Jordan the dentist of the Etolle section, were married at the home of Rev. J. R. Marrs at Temple Hill Tuesday, that gentleman officiating. Following the ceremony the happy young couple came to Glasgow, where they spent the night at the Davis Hotel. They were accompanied by Mr. E. D. Quick and Miss Maggie Jordan, and Mr. Wilkinson and Miss Minnie Quick. Mr. and Mrs. Hagan have not yet decided where they will reside, but may go to California in the Spring.

Mr. Hagan has spent six years in the U. S. Army, two and a half years of which were spent in the Philippine Islands. He was honorably discharged at San Francisco less than three months ago. The young couple start life with bright prospects and with the best wishes of a host of friends.

FARMERS HARDWARE AND GROCERY COMPANY
INCORPORATED
GLASGOW, KENTUCKY

L. & N. To Change Route.
The Glasgow correspondent in Tuesday's Courier-Journal says: "The people of Horse Cave are up against a serious proposition. The Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company has decided to make some extensive changes in the part of the road that runs through Hart and Barren counties, in order to cut down several heavy grades and straighten the track. Surveyors have been at work in the section where the changes are proposed for a month and have about completed the plans for the change. To make the change for the best interests of the company it is proposed to leave the old track at Dividing Ridge, above Munfordville, Hart county, and build the road straight to a point a little above Cave City, Barren county. The railroad will then run two miles west of Horse Cave. The announcement of this change comes in the nature of a surprise to the citizens and business men of the town. Horse Cave has a population of something like 2,000 and is considered one of the very best shipping points along the line."

Kerley Mill Sold.

Mr. J. Tom Smith who has had the flouring mill at Munfordville leased for sometime and who has run it so successfully, has bought the Jeff Kerley mill at Pageville for $4,000 and will take charge at once. Nice 4 room cottage almost new. Convenient location. Well of unusually fine water. Possession will be given immediately.

E. V. KILGORE
Glasgow, Ky., Jan. 30.

Here is your chance to get a nice little farm of 72 acres, RIGHT CLOSE TO GLASGOW; near enough for your children to attend the Glasgow schools as it is only a short walk to town. It was the home-place for many years of Major Lawrence, who was one of the leading lawyers of Glasgow, and is now owned and occupied by Mr. Charley Whitney. The residence is A NEW, FIVE-ROOM FRAME, which was built by Mr. Whitney, on a HIGH, HEALTHFUL SITE from which a beautiful view of Glasgow is had. The advanced age of the present owner compels him to retire from farming, and he will give immediate possession to the purchaser. The place is watered by two bold springs and a well of fine water, right at the house. Please see me, or write for further particulars at once, if you want a bargain.

The above refers to the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company of Milwaukee, Wis., that is represented in Glasgow by Ed N. Caldwell, General Manager for Southern Kentucky, and which writes more business in this section than all the rest of the companies combined. The above report shows the reason why. Yes, there was a panic. But the policies in the Northwestern are still worth 100 cents on the dollar. Have you got one? If not, you had better start the year by putting one among your securities, for life insurance clips the wings with which wealth would fly away, and it is the best, if not the only, security against a panic.

Even our Grandfathers knew what BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT will do.

Excitement is harmful to geese, and they do not thrive if attended by a quick-tempered, rough or excitable person. They need to have full confidence in the keeper.

"You are a liar!" exclaimed the first man. "You're another!" retorted No. 2. "Calm yourselves, gentlemen," interposed the peacemaker. "It is barely possible that you are both right."

Lucian, some 17 centuries ago, relates how the inhabitants of the moon drank "air squeezed or compressed into a goblet," so that it formed a sort of dew—clearly suggesting liquid air.

A baby has been born in an automobile, near Neuchatel, the mother being the wife of a tradesman. The car was stopped, and when a doctor arrived he founds mother and child doing well.

Do not only take occasions of doing good when they are thrust upon thee, but study to do all the good thou canst. Zeal of good works will make thee plot and contrive for them, consult and ask advice for them.

The best way to avoid ruts is to take up something new—something entirely different from the work which has occupied the greater part of our lives. We should climb out of our rut, if only for a day, and look down into it from some higher viewpoint.

Men or women make their own beauty or ugliness. Balzac speaks in one of his novels of a man who "was uglier than he had any business to be," and, if we could but read it, every human being carries his life in his face, and is good-looking or the reverse, as that life has been good or evil.

In some parts of West Africa the girls have long engagements. On the day of their birth they are betrothed to a baby boy a trifle older than themselves, and at the age of 20 they are married. The girls know of no other way of getting a husband, and so they are quite happy, and satisfied. As wives they are patterns of obedience, and the marriages usually turn out successes.

When taking long tramps with my husband I often suffered from wet feet until I discovered the following articles of wearing apparel: I brought oil silk and of this made leggings, which I wore inside of my shoes. The water could then splash over my rubbers with no ill effects. The leggings do not impede walking, nor do they injure the feet as do rubber boots.—Good Housekeeping.

EXERCISE OF THE EYES
Way in Which Sight May Be Improved and Even Use of Glasses Put Off for a Time.

Sight is God's best gift to man. The other senses amount to nothing in comparison. We get along very well without taste, smell, hearing, feeling; but when the eyes are dead the soul has no window. The light of life is gone. Exercise your eyes. Hold your head still, as if in a vise, or one of the steel crochets of the old-fashioned photographer (when it took three minutes to take a picture), and roll your optics around. Look in every direction—up, down, to the right, to the left, and every style of the oblique—without moving the head. All the nerves, veins and arteries will be strengthened. The muscles will be improved a thousandfold. The lachrymal glands will be excited sufficiently to wash the ball perfectly, and seeing will be a delight. Goodbye to glasses.

REAL ECONOMY.

"How is it that you manage to smoke such expensive cigars?"
"Oh, you see, my wife is studying economy."

BABY NEEDS "LETTING-ALONE."

Most of the earlier months of an infant's life should be spent in sleep, and for the first six months of its life it should be kept very quiet.

Too much talking to and fussing a tiny infant is very bad, and though a child of a year or so old that has been made much of may appear unusually bright and intelligent, it is not good for the little brain to be over-excited and developed, and a reaction may come sooner or later, and the brilliant baby turn out the dunce of the class.

Many great men were to all appearances "stupid" children, their brains developing more slowly and maturing at a later date than those of their more averagely endowed brothers and sisters.—Chicago Journal.

WOMAN AND HER WATCH.

Watchmakers say it's amazing women have timepieces that go at all, in view of the fact that about five women in a hundred wind their watches at the proper time. The average woman looks on the winding of a watch either as a ceremony to be performed only on gala days or as a pastime that will do well enough as a stop-gap for idle moments, but must not be permitted to interfere with the serious things of life. The explanation probably is that she doesn't wear it every day. A man looks on his watch as a constant companion, and if he is fortunate enough to possess a good one, also as a faithful servant.

PAJAMAS UNKNOWN.

A Philadelphia man who has been traveling in the west says that pajamas are not popular articles of wearing apparel out there, and cites an incident to prove his statement. While staying at a hotel in a medium-sized town he sent a pair of rather gray colored pajamas (his wife's choice) to a laundry. When they came back they were starched so stiff they would stand alone, and each trousers leg was carefully pressed into the most approved crease. Attached to the coat was pinned a small slip of paper bearing the words: "To one lawn tennis suit fifty cents."

APPROPRIATELY NAMED.

The boy in the paint store dashed hurriedly up the cellar steps and sought the proprietor.
"There's a barrel leaking in the basement!" he cried, "and the automobile stuff is just pouring out."
"Why do you call it automobile stuff?" asked the proprietor.
"It's running over everything in sight."—Judge.

The American Tobacco Company bought the 9,000 pound crop of white burley tobacco of William Asher, of White Hall, Ky., January 23, paying from 23 1/2 to 24 cents per pound. This is the record sale for the season for white burley tobacco in Kentucky.

ELY'S CREAM BALM has been tried and not found wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. It has won a place in the family medicine chest among the reliable household remedies, where it is kept at hand for use in treating cold in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or snuffing. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bed case of catarrh.

A Reliable Remedy CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm is quickly absorbed. Gives Relief at Once. It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Drug-gists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.
